Arbuckle Jury Disagrees 10-2

Will Be Re-Tried January 9—Woman Juror Refuses to Consider Evidence and Holds Out for Conviction.

San Francisco, Dec. 5.—Collateral issues were to the fore today in the affairs of Roscoe Arbuckle, the jury which tried him on a manslaughter charge having disagreed and been discharged yesterday.

The jury was discharged at noon Sunday. The jury foreman reported that the final ballot stood ten to two. It is generally reported the majority was for acquittal.

RETRIAL DATE SET.

The jury was brought into court at its own request at noon, reported a disagreement and asked that it be discharged. The case was set for retrial Jan. 9.

JUROR STUBBORN.

August Fritze the foreman of the Arbuckle jury, issued a signed statement saying that one of the woman jurors who was in the minority refused to consider the evidence from the beginning and declared that "she would cast her ballot and would not change it until hell froze over."

Foremost of the three groups of circumstances attracting public interest to the motion picture comedian was the charge made last night by Mrs. Helen M. Hubbard, one of the jurors, that attempts had been made at her intimidation.

CLAIMS INTIMIDATION.

Mrs. Hubbard told Milton U'Ren, an assistant district attorney, and several other persons, that a man representing himself as Gus Oliva, a commission merchant with whom her husband had had business dealings, had telephoned the husband Saturday night with the intent of having her change her vote as a juror. She let it be known that she had stood consistently for Arbuckle's conviction

U'Ren announced the whole matter would be laid before the grand jury tonight.

LIQUOR CASE UP.

The second focus of discussion was a federal charge against Arbuckle, based on an allegation illegal transportation of liquor drunk at the party in the hotel at which it was charged Miss Rappe met fatal injury at Arbuckle's hands. This was set for hearing today.

PERJURY CHARGED.

The third item on the list was a charge of perjury against Mrs Minnie Neighbors of Los Angeles, a witness called by the defense. This also was set for hearing today.

In addition to these cases last night's intimation by Milton Cohen, member of Arbuckle's counsel, that the defense had "something up its sleeve" and was prepared to "let it come down" today came in for considerable comment.

Arms Sub-Committees Speed Up During Recess

Informal Discussions Take Up Time of Delegates—Naval Ratio Negotiations Await Tokio Reply.

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Dec. 5.—While formal sessions of the arms conference and its subdivisions were suspended today during the recess until Wednesday, for most of the delegates it was not a day of rest so far as concerns the important "informal" discussions between individuals and groups which are becoming increasingly prominent as the negotiations reach a more advanced stage.

WORK SPEEDED UP.

In addition to these exchanges, the recess affords opportunity for speeding up the work of the several subcommittees appointed by the Far Eastern committee to study specific questions relating to China, including the tariff situation and China's request for withdrawal of foreign troops on her soil, and also the special conference between the delegates of that country and Japan on the Shantung controversy. Today's session of that conference will resume discussion of the question of control of the Shantung railway on which there was a preliminary exchange of views on Friday.

WAIT ON TOKIO.

Negotiations on the question of naval ratio for Japan, meanwhile remained at a standstill so far as developments here were concerned and were expected to continue until receipt from Tokio by the Japanese delegates of a definite statement of the government's views on the situation as affected by the conference of the naval big three—Hughes, Balfour and Kato—last Friday. This it is believed, will not be forthcoming until the Japanese government has had time thoroughly to canvass national sentiment on the question.

'AIRPLANES DISPLACE SHIPS AND FORTS

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 5.—Capital ships and land fortresses will be useless in future wars, owing to the development of air forces, Admiral William F. Fullam, United States navy, who came here to speak before the Society of Automobile Engineers and Detroit aviation society, said today.

The airplane, the admiral said, would, in the future, be the super instrument of warfare, and both surface and submarine units of the navy would be modified to conform to the capabilities of air craft.

New Entente is Proposed

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Dec. 5.—The draft of a quadruple entente which would serve as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance, it was learned today, form a authoritative sources, is now under consideration by the Governments of the United States, Great Britain and France.

EXPLAINS DELAY.

This is said to explain the delay of the Japanese Government in announcing its decision concerning the question of ratio of naval tonnage, because it appears that as the problem of warship tonnage is connected with national policy, the two matters are being discussed together.

MAY NOT INSIST ON RATIO.

There was a growing impression today that if the entente can be worked out satisfactorily Japan would not insist on her request for a 70 per cent ratio of capital ships as against the 60 per cent suggested in the American proposals.

FRANCE INCLUDED.

The inclusion of France in the preliminary negotiations for the entente has attracted special interest. It has not been disclosed whether the terms of the proposed agreement would be of a nature to satisfy France with reference to her situation in Europe, or whether the entente would merely be a regional accord affecting the Far East.

DRAFT PREPARED.

It is understood that the draft of the entente has been prepared with special reference to the United States constitutional system under which the Senate has the treaty making power.

China Wireless is Restricted

[By the Associated Press]

Washington, Dec. 5—The sub-committee on draft at the Washington conference today disposed of the use of wireless installations in China by powers by adopting the tentative plan presented last week by Elihu Root of the American delegation.

Under this plan, which will be reported back to the main committee at its next meeting, use of wireless would be restricted to diplomatic and governmental messages, those installations which were permitted by Chinese grants, would be used only to the extent authorized by the grants, and the powers would cooperate with Chinese commission merchants through conference to the end that wave lengths be not interfered with.

WORLD'S SUPPLY OF HELIUM IN AIRSHIP

Blimp Makes Long Successful Trip.

Washington, Dec. 5—Naval blimp C-7, the first airship to be inflated with helium, the non-explosive gas discovered by the navy department during the war arrived today at the navy aviation station at Anacostia, a suburb, for inspection by naval officials.

ATTRACKS ATTENTION.

The ship left Hampton Roads this morning and made quick time to Washington. On her arrival over the city she cruised at a low altitude over the navy department building, the roar of her motors drawing attention of officers and clerks who rushed to the windows to wave at the airmen above them.

The C-7 contains in her huge silver envelope practically the world's available supply of the new gas.

RUTH FORFEITS SERIES SHARE

Other Barnstormers Given Same Punishment.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Babe Ruth's share of the world's series profits in 1921 were declared forfeited and Ruth himself suspended until May 20, 1922, by Commissioner K. M. Landis, in a decision today fixing punishment for the New York Yankee ball player for participating in a post-season barnstorming tour.

MAY BE REINSTATED.

Ruth may apply for reinstatement on May 20 or within 10 days after that date, Commissioner Landis said. The 1922 baseball season starts about the middle of April, so that Ruth will be prevented from participating in baseball for at least one month next season.

OTHERS PUNISHED.

Bill Piercy, New York American pitcher, and Bob Meusel, the Yankee right fielder, were handed the same punishment by Commissioner Landis. They participated in the trip with Ruth. The trio started out from New York City, playing several dates in New York state, but the trip was called off after they had been warned that they were violating the rules of organized baseball.

RUTH'S SHARE $3 362.26.

Ruth's share in the 1921 world's series amounted to $3,362.26, which he lost by the Landis decision today. Meusel's share was the same, while Piercy received $100 less than his two teammates.

SHOOTS FROM CELL KILLING PRISONER

Sheriff At Virginia, Ill., Wounds Two Others.

Virginia, Dec. 5—Shooting between the bars in the door of the cell where he had been thrown after being overpowered by three prisoners bent on making their escape, Sheriff George W. Farrar Sunday afternoon shot and killed Edward Erickson and seriously wounded Harry Spencer. Darrel Riggs, the third prisoner, dashed to freedom through a barrage of shots from Sheriff Farrar's automatic pistol. Spencer staggered out of the jail doorway, shot through the stomach, and succeeded in making his getaway.

SHERIFF ALONE.

The jailbreak took place at 5:15 o'clock. Sheriff Farrar 76 years old, was alone in the jail at the time. One of the men had called for some drinking water, and when Sheriff Farrar opened the door of the corridor to hand them a bucket of drinking water, Erickson and Spencer attacked him.

Riggs, who was at the opposite end of the corridor, came to the assistance of his cellmates, despite Sheriff Farrar's promise that if Riggs would help him he would "make it all right with him."

With the assistance of Riggs the sheriff was carried into one of the cells at the end of the corridor. Struggling and kicking, striking whenever he could get an arm free, Sheriff Farrar was tossed into the cell and the door pulled shut.

SHERIFF OPENS FIRE.

Then the three prisoners made a dash for the front door of the jail. Sheriff Farrar drew a .25 automatic pistol which he had concealed in his coat pocket, and which he had managed to retain during the struggle, and fired at Spencer, who had just pulled the door shut. He dropped with a bullet wound in his stomach.

The sheriff then turned his pistol on Erickson shooting him as he neared the front door of the jail. Spencer, in the meanwhile, had gotten up, and made a dash for freedom Riggs was the next target for the sheriff, but he managed to get out without being hit, so far as is known.

KILLED INSTANTLY.

Erickson was killed instantly, the bullet striking him in the back of the head. He dropped near the door and it was necessary for Spencer and Riggs to run around him to get out.

Erickson was awaiting trial on a charge of robbing the McIntire clothing store here last July. Spencer is alleged to have stolen an automobile at Beardstown, while Riggs is charged with a similar offense.

First Federal Budget in History of U.S. Made

Total Expenditures For 1923 Are Estimated at $3,505,754,727.

Washington, Dec. 5—A federal budget for the fiscal year 1923 approximately $500,000,000 below the four billion dollar figure which had been estimated some time ago as the minimum of Government expenditures for several years, faced Congress when it reconvened today.

The exact figures, as prepared by the newly created budget bureau and transmitted by President Harding in a special message, were $3,505,745,727, including an estimated deficit of $21,509,666 in the operations of the postal service.

REPRESENTS A DECREASE.

This total represents a decrease of $462,167,639 from the $3,967,922,366 estimated expenditures for the current fiscal year and $2,032,285,962 from the actual expenditures in the fiscal year 1921. It is however, $167,571,977 in excess of the estimated receipts of $3,338 182,750, while the outgo for the current fiscal year exceeded the estimated receipts of $3,943,454,663 by $24,468,703.

EASY ADJUSTMENT.

Referring to the apparent deficit for 1923, President Harding wrote the Congress that "ways are provided for the relative easy adjustment without added taxation" of the discrepancy between the income and outgo. As one means he recommended legislation directing the reduction of the accumulated naval supply account by $100,000,000.

APPROPRIATIONS ASKED.

Actual appropriations asked of Congress for the various federal departments and agencies for 1923 total $3,224,875,392, exclusive of Postoffice Department. This represents a reduction of $122,806,310 from the original estimated as presented to the budget bureau, it is stated, but is approximately $27,000,000 more than the appropriations for this fiscal year.

NOT ACTUAL EXPENSE.

Explaining the $280,879,134 excess of estimated expenditures in 1923 over the appropriations asked for, Budget Bureau officials explain that some of the funds actually to be put out will be carried over in continuing appropriations and by other means. They say that appropriations for a given year do not accurately reflect actual expenses for that year, pointing out that while the appropriations for this fiscal year were $3,197,807,862, the estimated actual outgo will exceed this sum by approximately $770,000,000.

ARMS APPROPRIATION HEAVY.

Of the total estimated expenditures for 1923, approximately $2,900,000,00 is to pay for past wars and to keep up the fighting arms of the government, leaving only about $600,000,000 for the peace-time pursuits of the federal establishment. The estimate for the army and the navy is $801,636,107 a reduction of $66,335,299 as compared with this fiscal year and $956,352,741 as compared with the fiscal year 1921.

REDUCTION NOT CONSIDERED.

The navy estimate of $431,754,000 it is explained, does not take into account any possible reductions that might be brought about as a result of the arms conference, the total including funds for continuing work on the ships of the 1916 program, most of which would be scrapped under the proposal made to the conference by the American government.

DAWES REPORTS.

Accompanying the budget as sent to Congress is a detailed report from Director General Dawes as to the operation of the budget bureau since its establishment five months ago and some pointed comments as to means of continuing its efficient operation. Discussing the reception of the budget by Congress, General Dawes says:

NO RADICAL CHANGES.

"It is to be expected that since the preliminary estimates have been made under pressure by the executive for proper retrenchment, where consistent with efficiency, it will not be necessary, as heretofore, for Congress to make radical cuts upon the estimates of the budget with any uncertainty as to what will be the result as it effects efficiency.

The President of the United States when he sends the budget to Congress is presumed to send it with all the reductions in expenditures which can be effected without due impairment of governmental business processes.

"In the preparation of the budget he has had at work an authorized agency in the bureau not only in ascertaining the reasonableness of desired appropriations, but in continually imposing pressure upon the departments for a reduction in the estimates wherever proper and possible."

MEDICAL ALCOHOL QUERIES SENT OUT

Doctors Asked to State Their Opinions.

New York, Dec. 5.—A questionnaire on alcohol as a therapeutic agent and its employment as a medicine has been sent to 40,000 physicians in the United States by the American medical association. Some of the questions are:

ARE THEY ESSENTIAL?

"Do you regard whiskey or beer or wine as a necessary therapeutic agent in the practice of medicine? If yes, what disease, or conditions?

"Have instances occurred in your own practice in which unnecessary suffering or death has resulted from the enforcement of prohibition laws? If yes, how many such cases have you known in the last year?

"How many times have you found it advisable to prescribe whiskey or beer or wine in a month?

PRESCRIPTION LIMIT.

"Present regulations limit the number of prescriptions to 100 in three months. In your opinion should there be any limit to the number of prescriptions for alcoholic liquors a physician may write? If yes, what should be the limit?

"In your opinion should physicians be restricted in prescribing whiskey, beer or wine? If yes, what should the restriction be.

PACKERS TO FILL STRIKERS PLACES

Claim Less Than 5 Per Cent Are Union Men.

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Plans for immediate replacement of union packing house employes who obey the strike order today for which they voted were being carried out at the fifteen packing centers in the middle west affected by the walkout.

The "big five" packers declared the organized workers represented less than five per cent of the total number of employes, while union leaders insisted they had gained the support of more than half the workers.

EXTRA POLICE CALLED.

Two hundred extra policemen were assigned to the stockyards district here this morning, where a large percentage of the 40,000 packing house employes had voted to go on strike, according to union leaders.

Reports from South St. Paul, Minn., indicated more than 2,000 men there were responding to the strike call 2,000 at Kansas City, Kan., 2,000 at Fort Worth, Tex., and 600 each at Oklahoma City, Okla, and Denver Colo.

300 LINED UP.

More than 300 men were lined up early in the morning at the employment office of Armours, but few of them were given jobs. At another entrance of the Armour plant, about 500 men waited to get in and police, seeing the gathering, stood around in doubt whether to disperse the crowd or not. It developed that they also were men looking for work.

The first call for police came from the Swift plant where 700 men gathered, waiting for jobs. The police had little trouble in keeping them in line

50 PER CENT REPORT.

E. A. Cudahy, Jr., of the Cudahy Packing company, said that reports from the company's plant were that about 50 per cent of their employes had reported for work. The company has no plant in Chicago.

John E. O'Hern of Armour's, announced that 7,860 of the 8,000 Armour employes came to work as usual this morning. In outside plants, there was "about a 50-50 break" he said.

TWO FOR EVERY JOB.

The employment office at the yards of Swift and company reported that there were "two men for every job" officers of the company said about 90 per cent of the regular force had reported for work this morning.

Wilson and company also reported about 90 per cent of their employes returned to work although the killing department did not begin operations until noon and no estimate was possible on that department. Two of the employes' conference committee of 36 failed to report for work.

Mr. Jones had just passed his seventy-ninth birthday Friday. As they filed into the post room for the meeting every member except Mr. Jones had made it a point to use a walking stick.

Rev. J. M. Goodspeed, post commander, in a few well chosen words remarked that it had been noticed that Comrade Jones was the only member present who did not have a walking stick, and then presented Mr. Jones with an elegant ebony stick crowned with a gold head, as a token of esteem from the members of the post. After expressing his appreciation of the gift, Comrade Jones stated that he would "use the stick when he got old enough to need it."

PIANO RECITAL.

Albert Carl McKee of Chrisman gave a piano recital at the general meeting of the Tuscola Woman's club Saturday afternoon. The program was in charge of the Bible Study department. Mrs. John D. Waters of Tuscola became a member of the club.

Mr. McKee, who is a seventeen year old high school boy of Chrisman, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl McKee of Tuscola. Both parents died in his infancy and he has been brought up by relatives. He is a nephew of A. A. McKee of Tuscola. On account of the popularity of young Mr. McKee's father as a violinist, Tuscola people took a great deal of interest in this piano recital and his work was so much enjoyed that he was recalled again and again. His program was:

"Berceuse from Jocelyn," by Godard; "Fantasie in D Minor," "Valse A La Bein Aimee," Schutt; "Fifth Valse," Durand. The program also included a group of Christmas readings by Miss Marjorie Timm of Tuscola.

Rev. J. L. B. Ellis of Shelbyville, a superannuated minister of the Methodist church, was a week-end visitor at the home of C. S. Skinner. Rev. Mr. Ellis is the father of the first Mrs. Skinner.

Miss Ruth Wardall, who teaches domestic science at the University of Illinois, was here Saturday to visit her mother and attend the meeting of the Woman's club.

The W. C. T. U. of the city will meet Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the chamber of commerce rooms. All the members whose name begins with "E" will be hostesses, with Mrs. Harley Baker as chairman of the hostess committees. All members are urged to attend and visitors will be welcome.

IN THE CHURCHES.

There was a very good attendance at the Tuscola churches Sunday morning in spite of the fact that the streets and roads were very sloppy with the snow of Saturday night.

At the North Side Christian church there were no preaching services. Rev. I. M. Hoel, the pastor, who has been sick for several weeks, is reported as still improving.

At the Lutheran church, there were the regular services on Sunday. The exchange held Saturday by the Ladies' Aid at the chamber of commerce rooms was well patronized and everything sold. There will be no meeting of the Ladies' Aid for December and the January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Rahn. There will be choir rehearsals on Tuesday and Friday nights and on Saturday there will be rehearsal of the Christmas program for the children.

At the South Side Christian church, Rev. Mr. Wilson of the Third Christian church in Danville was in the pulpit, on account of the fact that Rev. Mr. Hollingsworth of the Tuscola church is conducting a series of meetings in the church of Mr. Wilson in Danville. Sunday school class No. 3, taught by Mrs. Oscar Lozier, will hold a social on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Elmer Thompson. The ladies of class No. 11, taught by Mrs. Belle Warren will hold a social Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Murphy.

PASTOR IN REVIVAL.

There were the regular services at the Baptist church. The annual business meeting of the members of the church will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30. Rev. Mr. Lloyd, the pastor, went to Fairmont Monday to assist Rev. Mr. Morgan of the church at that place in a revival meeting. He expects to be away for two weeks. During the two Sundays of his absence, Dr. Gerdes and Miss Rayburn, both of Champaign, will begin the pulpit of the Tuscola Baptist church.

At the Presbyterian church there were the regular Sunday services. The Light Bearers society will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Joseph and the Ladies Missionary society will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. H. P. Campbell.

The women of the Home Missionary society are preparing a Christmas box for the Kindergarten home at New Orleans and all who wish to contribute gifts for that box are requested to place them in the hands of Mrs. Fred Michener, not later than next Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Joseph, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Turner, who have sons in the University of Illinois, were in Champaign and Urbana Saturday night attending the "Open House" given by the school of engineering.

Other Tuscola people who were in Champaign were Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Helm, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Helm, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Larimore.

SNOW.

The first snow of the season of any amount, came here Saturday night. Scattering snow flakes were in the air when darkness came on and these soon increased in number until the wet snow was coming from the northeast in a real down-pour. It was still snowing at 10 p. m. and it continued until enough had fallen in addition to what melted, to cover the ground to a depth of about two inches Sunday morning. It melted rapidly.

In Two Weeks Falling Hair Stops This New Way

THIS is to offer you under written money-back guarantee, a new and radically different method of scalp treatment. Under clinical tests it grew hair on 91 in 100. It stops falling hair in 2 weeks. It grows new hair with further use. It must do this for you, or your money is refunded. Your own druggist signs the guarantee. So you take no risk.

85% of all hair troubles come from a simple infection—Sebum. Sebum is an oil. In its healthy state, it lubricates the hair. Thus it serves a useful purpose. Frequently, however, it becomes infected. Then you see it in the form of excessive oil, or when it cakes, as dandruff.

It forms a breeding place for bacteria. It lodges in hair follicles and plugs them. Then germs by the millions start to feed upon the hair. Semi-baldness is soon marked. Then total baldness.

Remove this infected Sebum, stimulate blood flow, and the hair will grow. This is scientific fact. For even in advanced baldness the hair roots are still alive. The urge to grow is there.

You can note yourself how hair, lost in sickness or fever, regrows when health returns.

The name of this new treatment is Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. It is different from anything you have ever seen. You do not rub it in with your fingers. Each bottle contains a rubber massage cap. The nipples are hollow. Thus they feed the lotion right through the hair into the follicles of the scalp. And at the same time give the head a thorough massage.

We know these statements sound incredible. But it costs you nothing if it does not satisfy you. Your own druggist signs the guarantee. Ask him for

MOVE HOUSE FROM SIGEL TO NEOGA

Shelbyville,, Dec. 5.—The two story seven-room house belonging to Dr. X. B. Dougherty which he built in Sigel three years ago has been moved slowly along the Egyptian Trail at the pace an ordinary person would walk and now is in Neoga where he foundation is being put under the building.

Two large sills measuring 12x12 inches and fifty feet long, were placed in triangular form under the house causing it to rest at three points on eight large moving trucks. To these trucks were fastened a large cable and a traction engine furnished the motor power for the house and its two large porches.

NO DAMAGE.

So carefully was the moving done that it is estimated that $35 will put the building in repair. In about thirty days Dr. Dougherty expects to have his family in the house. They recently moved from Sigel to Neoga.

AN URGENT MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNORS OF 41 STATES

TO TWENTY MILLION SCHOOL CHILDREN OF AMERICA

THE AMERICAN SCHOOL CHILDREN OF TODAY MUST be the preservers of World Peace to-morrow.

The Presidents and Cabinet Members, the Senators and Congressmen, the Preachers and Editors, and all the great leaders of thought and action who will control the destinies of America and of the world when "to-morrow" dawns are studying at this very moment in the schoolrooms of the Nation.

They are preparing—we who plan their studies, we who teach them are preparing them—for the great tasks we must soon turn over to them. Their minds and hearts must be filled with the great lessons from the living present.

The greatest moment of their lives, for learning, is THIS MOMENT. The greatest opportunity that ever came or ever can come to them for learning the political and economic history of the world, and of their own country in its relation to the rest of the world, has come to them NOW in the great Conference of Nations which is meeting in Washington.

The Literary Digest has received telegrams from the Governors of forty-one of the forty-eight States of the United States calling upon the teachers and school children of America to give earnest study day by day to the proceedings, from beginning to end, of the great Disarmament Conference, which the Governor of Florida characterizes as "the mountain peak in the political and economic history of the modern world." These telegrams are here printed as an urgent message to the schools of the Nation.

THOMAS E. KILBY, Governor of Alabama.

School and college students everywhere should study the proceedings of the pending conference for the limitation of Armaments. I can conceive of no way by which those who are to be our future citizens can be trained more effectively for the political and economic development of our Country and of the world.

THOMAS E. CAMPBELL, Governor of Arizona.

Regardless of its outcome, the Armament Conference is of such tremendous importance to the future welfare of the young people of America that they should take advantage of every possible opportunity to follow the proceedings in detail.

THOMAS C. McRAE, Governor of Arkansas.

Every school child and college student in the United States should be required to study closely the proceedings of this great Conference. They should know the significance of it all. Teachers and school and college officials will cooperate to this end I believe.

WILLIAM D. STEPHENS, Governor of California.

Never before in the history of the world has a limited group of men been given an opportunity to relieve a war weary world of the awful burdens of destructive warfare. Never before has it been possible to relieve the mothers, the children and the toilers of the world of the heartaches, the heartbreaks, the want and misery and slighted education, the almost unbearable taxes and other economic sacrifices brought on by war. May we not pray that God will guide aright all those who participate in the proceedings of the great Disarmament Congress now in session in Washington. In my judgment it will be good for the future of the republic if all school children give earnest study to the proceedings.

OLIVER H. SHOUP, Governor of Colorado.

We can conceive no better way to train the citizens of tomorrow for the discharge of their most important duties than by encouraging their study of the proceedings in Washington at the great Conference.

EVERETT J. LAKE, Governor of Connecticut.

If it can be impressed upon all our school children to watch intently and to study by all means at hand the proceedings now taking place at the Armament Conference at Washington, I feel sure that in the years to come, their influence will be moulded into a public opinion which will insist upon an amicable adjustment without force of arms of all differences, and that this public opinion will also make such amicable adjustment effective to prevent further wars among civilized nations.

CARY A. HARDEE, Governor of Florida.

It is well that the twenty million school children of America should study the proceedings of the Washington Conference. It is perhaps a mountain peak in the political and economic history of modern world.

THOMAS W. HARDWICK, Governor of Georgia.

I believe that a study of this question by the college students and school children of the country is most important.

D. W. DAVIS, Governor of Idaho.

There is an astonishing lack of sound information among our citizens of the political and economic history of the world. Should the true situation be spread before the boys and girls today there would dawn a better tomorrow, because the dominating characteristic of the average citizen is his desire for betterment.

LEN SMALL, Governor of Illinois.

Warring between nations must cease. Humanity demands it; economics demand it. I can see no better way to bring about this ultimate end, should we not immediately succeed, than to educate the twenty million American school children to the horrors of war and the necessities of peace through close study of the proceedings of the present Disarmament Conference.

WARREN T. McCRAY, Governor of Indiana.

There has never been a time in the World's history when the deliberations and decrees of a selected group of international representatives meant more to the future of civilization than the decisions resulting from the Armament Conference now in session at Washington. Every suggestion or movement of the Conference should be closely studied by the public school children of our land, thus inculcating in their minds the idea that the apostles of peace are no less deserving of the eternal gratitude of a liberty-loving nation than are the heroes of war.

N. E. KENDALL, Governor of Iowa.

I unreservedly approve the campaign to induce the school children of the country to study its proceedings from day to day. Nothing, in my opinion, will contribute so much to the preservation of permanent peace as the inculcation in the hearts of the young of a profound abhorrence of war.

HENRY J. ALLEN, Governor of Kansas.

I know of nothing more timely than the study in the schools of the present proceedings of the Arms Conference. Its fundamental educational value alone would justify it. It marks an important epoch in history, and will have a tremendous effect upon the thought and feeling of the present and the future.

EDWIN P. MORROW, Governor of Kentucky.

The youth of America, its boys and girls, should watch with the keenest interest and the fullest understanding the ever-shifting scene of the Disarmament Conference to the end that they may forever say, "I beheld the progress of the event which took fear and distrust out of the hearts of nations and brought confidence in each other to nations and a newer sense of brotherhood to the peoples of the earth."

JOHN M. PARKER, Governor of Louisiana.

The nation, and especially coming men and women, as represented by our school children, should carefully study this Conference.

PERCIVAL P. BAXTER, Governor of Maine.

As Governor of Maine and head of the School Department I have urged both superintendents and teachers to have their classes study and follow the proceedings of the Disarmament Conference. I consider this Conference the greatest event of history and believe that the rising generation should become conversant with the problems of the Conference and with the discussion that takes place there. A careful daily study of the Conference proceedings will teach world history, geography, economics, and politics, and will give our students a wide range of information. The importance of such a program cannot be overstated.

J. A. O. PREUS, Governor of Minnesota.

The Conference on Limitation of Armaments is the most important gathering in many decades and every student who desires a complete knowledge of history must read and watch its proceedings.

ALBERT C. RITCHIE, Governor of Maryland.

I heartily urge the school children of America to study the proceedings of the Disarmament Conference as they develop from day to day. No such opportunity for learning the political and economic history of the world, the hopes and ambitions of its peoples, has ever been presented. It is a rare privilege that is afforded us. There can be no greater or broader educational advantage than to study intently the proceedings of the Conference.

CHANNING H. COX, Governor of Massachusetts

In the Armament Conference the political and economic history of the modern world is to be studied. I can conceive of no better way to train the citizens of tomorrow for the discharge of their most important duties than by encourageing their study of the proceedings of the great Conference.

ALEX J. GROESBECK, Governor of Michigan.

Our boys and girls should closely follow the proceedings at Washington and thus take advantage of a wonderful opportunity to study history in its making.

ARTHUR M. HYDE, Governor of Missouri.

The history of the Washington Conference should be studied from both the political and the economic side by the school children of America. There can be no better way to train citizenship than by the study of the history and the present conditions, political, economic and social, of the other nations of the world. The study of the proceedings of the Conference will be of vast educational value to the school children of America and to the citizenship of the future.

JOSEPH M. DIXON, Governor of Montana.

The Disarmament Conference marks a mile stone in world history. The public schools and colleges of the country can perform no greater service to the nation than that of giving courses, during the sitting of the Washington Conference, to their students regarding the great questions involved. If we can fully impress upon the minds of these young people the tremendous danger involved and the impelling necessity for World Disarmament, the possibilities of future war will be greatly reduced.

SAMUEL R. McKelvie, Governor of Nebraska.

School and college students should keep carefully informed of the work of the Disarmament Conference. The facts that will be deduced out of the discussion there are of tremendous importance to our national life. A knowledge of national conditions is a prime requisite of good citizenship, and of almost equal importance is a knowledge of international affairs.

EMMET D. BOYLE, Governor of Nevada.

I heartily approve your suggestion that the school children study contemporary history in the making at the Arms Conference. The movement is an educative one and should extend to the children upon whose intelligence and sense of justice the future of the nation rests.

MERRITT C. MECHEM, Governor of New Mexi

I think it vitally important to instruct the youth of the country relative to the great historical event now transpiring at the Washington Disarmament Conference. Our children should be helped to understand thoroughly what is being done to prevent a recurrence of the horrible world tragedy we are now emerging from.

NATHAN L. MILLER, Governor of New York.

I strongly recommend to the teachers and the boys and girls of New York the earnest study of the proceedings of the Disarmament Conference which already gives such promise of a new era. The rising generation should be taught the lessons of this Conference and be made to understand the high alms and unselfish purposes of America.

EDWARD I. EDWARDS, Governor of New Jersey.

Next to the movement which resulted in the gathering of representatives of world powers at Washington to discuss and agree upon a limitation of Armament, the most powerful aid to the ultimate accomplishment of a lasting peace among men is your earnest plea that our twenty million American school children join with their elders in studying closely the proceedings of the Armament Conference that they may be thoroughly imbued with the anti-war feeling. That sentiment will, I trust, through the medium of our most potential educator the Press, be heard around the world and do more than any other human agency to supplant fear and suspicion with trust and confidence, thus removing the primary cause of war and begetting an era of good will.

R. A. NESTOS, Governor of North Dakota.

Every student should secure as full and accurate knowledge as possible of the work of the conference. This will help as scarcely anything else could to give meaning to the events of the coming decades, imbue the rising generations with the spirit of this Conference, and the world's progress must follow the paths of peace.

J. B. A. ROBERTSON, Governor of Oklahoma.

The Limitation of Armaments Conference in Washington will accomplish through its deliberations the most thorough illuminating and practical survey of the past development and future progress of our civilization that can ever be achieved. The proceedings of the Conference should be read and reviewed as a part of the daily course in all our schools, colleges and universities in order that the rising generation may be fully educated upon the cost and folly of War.

BEN W. OLCOTT, Governor of Oregon.

If success is achieved at Disarmament Conference, as it now appears it shall be. History will hold no record of achievement for world good equal to it. Consequently History may hold nothing more vital for the study of our youths and all citizens than the progressive steps of this gathering.

WILLIAM C. SPROUL, Governor of Pennsylvania.

I am calling upon the fifty thousand public school teachers in Pennsylvania to lead their students into the study of the proceedings of the great Conference at Washington in the belief that they will thus see in the making historical events which may lead to results comparable only to the promised millenium of peace and good will.

EMERY J. SAN SOUCI, Governor of Rhode Island.

The President should receive the support of every American in his efforts to assure permanent peace to the World. The school children especially should study the proceedings of the Conference so that the coming generation may be well-fitted to aid in the cause of permanent peace.

ROBERT A. COOPER, Governor of South Carolina.

Study of the proceedings of the Disarmament Conference will have a tendency to enlighten the public concerning international affairs. Enlightenment, together with a sense of justice, is essential for the proper solution of questions arising between nations. Many stupid blunders and costly wars have resulted because the general public was not informed. The proceeding of the Conference should be studied in all schools.

W. H. McMASTER, Governor of South Dakota.

May the school children of America study every phase, act and utterance of the Disarmament Conference. Every detail and circumstance of the Conference should be a vital part of the daily study and thought of the twenty million school children of America.

ALFRED A. TAYLOR, Governor of Tennessee.

There can be no better way to train the citizens of tomorrow for the discharge of their most important duties than by encouraging them to study the proceedings of the great Conference now in session at Washington. That Conference will deal with the political and economic history of the whole world, and its study and discussion of these subjects will afford a source of enlightment on matters of vital concern and a fund of knowledge of inestimable value to the rising generation of boys and girls when they are at the helm.

PAT M. NEFF, Governor of Texas.

The history that is now being made by the Disarmament Conference at Washington will be frequently referred to by writers, speakers and thinkers for generations to come. It constitutes an epoch-making milepost that ineffacably marks the march of man. The students of today who are to be the men and women of tomorrow should have as a part of their daily curriculum the detailed proceedings of this world wide conference, as it seeks to turn the tide of civilization away from the war-wrecked shores of the past.

CHARLES R. MABEY, Governor of Utah.

The Disarmament Conference constitutes a land mark in human progress the significance of which cannot yet be conceived. By all means let us study earnestly it its deliberations that understanding among all peoples may be the result . . . It is essential to posterity that the youth of the nation comprehend the full meaning and purposes of the gathering. With such a basis of familiarity they will best be prepared to perpetuate and bring to complete materialization the aims and ideas now being proposed.

LOUIS F. HART, Governor of Washington.

There is much truth in the argument that human nature will have to undergo a change before war can be eliminated . . . A beginning has been made—a bold, fearless step, such as an unselfish nation like the United States might be expected to take, but after all its greatest value is educational—the problem remains for future generations. By all means let the children of the land study closely the Disarmament Conference.

E. F. MORGAN, Governor of West Virginia.

The International Conference on Limitation of Armament, with political and economic discussions concerning far east problems, gives to American students unparalleled opportunities to study and acquaint themselves with world problems an understanding of which will be of great service to their Nation in the coming years.

JOHN J. BLAINE, Governor of Wisconsin.

The study of the news of the Armament Conference in connection with the political and economic history of the World and the causes of war will give us enlightened future generations in aid of World Peace.

ROBERT D. CAREY, Governor of Wyoming.

The history of the Disarmament Conference should be impressed upon the minds of the school children of America. The United States leads in a movement that promises more for the peace of the world than any gathering of statesmen since the dawn of history. Through our Educational Department I have requested that the schools of Wyoming shall study every phase of the Conference, from its inception to final adjournment. With the minds of the students of the Nation focused upon the proceedings of the Conference, the chief actors will feel a keener incentive to make their conclusions conform to the dominant will of the peoples of the earth.

TO the FATHERS and MOTHERS of AMERICA

This message comes to you with the challenge of a great opportunity for your boys and girls. It presses upon you a personal responsibility to see that they do not lose the benefits of this wonderful opportunity to fit themselves in the broadest way for their future citizenship. Take the matter up personally with their teachers and with the principals of their schools. Urge it through your Parents' Associations.. The Literary Digest is helping all it can, not only by printing this Message of the Governors in hundreds of the leading dailies of the country from Maine to California, but also by publishing in its own pages every week a careful review and explanation of the Proceedings of the Arms Conference, together with opinions regarding it from all over the world. The Governor of Montana was moved to telegraph, a few days ago, that "the last number of The Literary Digest was a veritable treasure-house of information regarding the scope and possibilities of this historic International Conference." Five hundred thousand school children already are studying The Literary Digest in their classrooms, and the fullest co-operation is provided to enable all others to enjoy the same benefit.

HUNTERS DISCOVER BODY ON ISLAND

Coroner Unable to Determine Cause of Death.

Clinton, Ia., Dec. 5.—Finding of the body of a woman in a shallow grave on a Mississippi river island, opposite Thomson, Ills., has presented a mystery that is puzzling the authorities of Carroll county, Ill. The grave was found by Samuel Jacobs and Hunter Mitchell, two Fulton, Ill., hunters, who went to the island on a shooting expedition, were attracted by the mound shaped grave, opened it and discovered the body.

FULLY CLOTHED.

An investigation by Coroner J. B. Schrieter of Carroll county revealed that the body is that of a woman 25 years old, with sandy hair. Although the body was fully clothed and wrapped in a heavy coat and a comforter, there were no marks of identification.

It was so badly decomposed that the coroner was unable to determine whether death was due to violence, but several feet of sash cord was found nearby.

DECATUR TRUNK FACTORY
308 NORTH WATER STREET

THREE WOMEN SECURE WONDERFUL RESULTS FROM NEW MEDICINE BEING INTRODUCED BY DECATUR DRUG CO.

Mercer Street Resident Tells How Pepgen Relieved Her of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Clara Zeller, 709 North Mercer street, Decatur, is the first woman in this advertisement who tells how Pepgen relieved her.

Pepgen is a tonic for the stomach, kidneys and liver, which is now being introduced at Decatur Drug Co.'s store with much success. Mrs. Zeller says:

"I suffered with kidney trouble which caused pains across my back. My appetite was very poor. In consequence of these ailments I grew into a badly run-down condition. I felt tired most of the time.

"Several weeks ago my husband brought home a bottle of Pepgen and I began taking it. It certainly proved a wonderful remedy. It did me more good than anything I ever tried before. While I have taken it only a few weeks, my appetite is splendid. It seems to me that I can hardly get enough to eat. I do not have any bad after-effects in the way of indigestion.

"The pains across my back have left entirely, and, therefore, I know my kidneys are in better condition.

"Pepgen has also relieved me of constipation. In view of the fact that I am so much stronger, my work seems easier. I am safe in saying that I feel better in every way since I took Pepgen."

Pepgen is a tonic made from roots, barks and herbs gathered from many countries, and blended into a matchless preparation. Thousands of people throughout the country have taken it, and many testimonials have been received in which it was told how Pepgen relieved such ailments as indigestion, constipation, nervousness and sleeplessness.

Mrs. Miller of Sangamon Street Tells Thrilling Experience With Pepgen.

Mrs. Myrtle Miller, 624 East Sangamon street, Decatur, is the second woman in this advertisement who tells how the great tonic now being introduced at the Decatur Drug Co., called Pepgen, relieved her.

Mrs. Miller says:

"For several years I suffered with stomach trouble. During all that time I do not think there was a day in which I felt exactly right. I was compelled to be very careful of my diet, and while I ate scarcely enough to keep a bird alive, I invariably had indigestion after every meal. Gas formed in my stomach and at times pressed against my heart and made me short of breath.

"I often was afraid that I would smother. Owing to a run-down condition, I became exceedingly nervous. Then I couldn't sleep soundly. I felt tired all of the time.

"When I heard about Pepgen and what it was doing for people here in town I decided to try it. I was not disappointed. After a few doses I was convinced that it was a splendid medicine.

"As I continued to take Pepgen I continued to grow better. At the present time I have a good appetite and my food digests perfectly. I sleep as soundly as a tired school girl. My housework is a pleasure. I honestly believe that I can do twice as much work now without being half so tired, so you must know how warmly enthusiastic I feel about Pepgen. I am grateful indeed for the relief that this great medicine has afforded me."

"I Now Feel Better Than for Years and Credit Pepgen," Says Mrs. Keesee, Short St.

Mrs. J. Keesee, 543 Short street, Decatur, is the third woman in this advertisement who testifies how Pepgen, which she secured from the Decatur Drug Co., brought her relief.

Mrs. Keesee was troubled with kidney ills and constipation. Her entire system seemed to be badly run down. Remarkable results were noticed in her physical condition after she had finished her first bottle of Pepgen. In a recent interview, Mrs. Keesee says:

"Yes, I suffered with kidney trouble for several years. Also constipation. I guess my whole constitution was run down, for I didn't have much strength. My appetite was poor. No food, however dainty, ever looked good to me. I never ate any breakfast at all, and only a light dinner and supper.

"If I exerted myself I would have a sharp shooting pain through the center of my back that almost drove me frantic.

"When I finished my first bottle of Pepgen my improvement had been so great that I could scarcely believe it myself. I hardly knew what to do with my new-found strength. I could do my housework in a few hours, where before it usually took me a whole day.

"I have a fine appetite, and just think, I am even eating breakfast, and big ones, too. I have almost forgotten that I ever had pains in my back.

"I further want to say that Pepgen is a splendid laxative. I feel that I cannot recommend the medicine too highly."

GAVE HER A NEW LEASE ON LIFE

St. Louis Woman Was Often in Bed for Weeks at a Time Before She Got Tanlac.

"Tanlac has got me up out of bed feeling so well I can do my housework and take care of my seven children, and of course, I just can't praise the medicine enough," said Mrs. Lydia Fuegner, 2242 Madison St., St. Louis, Mo.

"Much of the time during the past three years I was not able to do my housework, and frequently I was in bed for weeks at a time. I was bilious, suffered terribly from constipation and headaches and was often so dizzy I couldn't stand up. I had a pain across the small of my back all the time, and was so miserable I could hardly endure life. I tried medicine after medicine in an attempt to regain my health, but in spite of everything I kept getting worse.

"My husband finally started taking Tanlac, and after noticing how it helped him I began taking it also. My first bottle gave me an appetite and built me up in strength. I've now finished my second bottle, and am in better health than for several years. I've gained several pounds in weight, and all my aches and pains have disappeared and I never have dizzy spells any more. In fact, I feel just like I have a new lease on life, and my gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

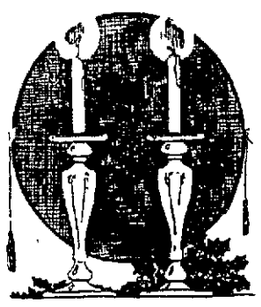
Apparel for Holiday Festivities

With Christmas and the attendant Holiday festivities only a few short weeks in the future, the question of charming apparel for those festivities is as important as the question of gifts.

Here we have given careful consideration to this phase of Christmas preparation, so now we are well prepared with assortments of smart dress apparel and correct accessories. Every wanted item, even to tiny organdy flowers for the hair, is to be seen.



For Dancing And Evening Costumes

Corsages and Flower Sprays

Little gold balls entwined in garlands of pale green ostrich, with here and there a tiny flower placed as if at random, form lovely sprays that lift an evening costume out of the commonplace. They are made by hand in France.

Gleaming organdy buds half hidden in pale green leaves of organdy are cunningly fashioned into corsages and boutonnieres. These, too, are brought from France.

Or, if you feel that your hair is neglected, you may design a head dress to be made of flowers and ostrich feathers and we will make it for you. Come to the Millinery Section.

The Mode Demands These Gauntlets And

Long Gloves

Of French Kid

And women are quick to accept them, for the long gloves are essential if one wears the new dresses with wide, draped sleeves. The gauntlets are for street wear of course, and they are favored because they are convenient as well as modish.

French kid gloves in 16-button length, of finest skins, well made and with prettily decorated backs, may be chosen in tan, white, gray, black or brown at $7.50 a pair.

Gauntlets of white kid, with cuffs lined with colored suede, have embroidered backs. $5 pair.

White kid gauntlets, with black inserts in cuffs and black embroidered backs may be chosen at $5.50 a pair.

Gauntlets of white kid with soft cuffs of gray suede are stitched in gray. $6.50 a pair.

DISCRIMINATION NEEDED

Several congressmen and senators have been in their home districts or states for a few days. Upon their return to Washington they are trying to report what they learned while away.

They think they have discovered a disposition on the part of the people to absolve President Harding from blame because conditions are not mended faster; but in nearly every case these people at home are found to have a grudge against representatives and senators who have balked the president in his efforts to change laws and get things done.

One is inclined to subscribe to the statement that the country generally is thinking pretty well of President Harding. Most of his proposals have been received with favor by the constituents in the home districts. There is a somewhat general feeling that in case of disagreement between the president and congress the president is generally right, at least much more nearly right than is congress.

But will the country use sense and discrimination when it comes to applying its feeling in this matter? In congress are Republicans, a majority in fact of that faith, who in the main are with the president in his suggestions; on the other hand there is a minority of Republicans who in the main are opposed to important suggestions made by the president. If those who have supported the president are returned to their places, while those who in the main opposed him are kept at home, we shall begin to feel that the voting public is using intelligence and discrimination in a place where they are much needed.

THEY READ PAPERS.

To help us put in the winter evenings there will be a state reading course; in fact there will be as many as ten courses for those who have a lot of leisure time. In each course are about ten books; how many of them dry as next summer's dust is not stated.

You will get a certificate from the state if you complete one of these reading courses; by doing all ten you can have ten certificates. These certificates are not legal tender in the common open marts of the day, but at any rate they are ornamental and probably some use can be made of them.

The wonder is how a person finds time to read ten dry and heavy books in this active and exciting age. It takes all one's time to keep within hailing distance of the newspapers and a few magazines, and there is a general feeling these must be read if we expect to remain part of the procession. As a matter of fact they furnish more than 90 per cent of all the reading that is done in Illinois. Some of us let on to do much other reading, but we are careful not to make much noise about it, for the reason it isn't done in polite society any more.

THE CRIPPLE'S HARD LOT.

Several Chicago doctors are protesting against the publicity that has been given Dr. Adolf Lorenz in this country. They say this is bad for the sufferers, who are sure to take on a lot of hopes that later must be blasted.

The difficulty, as told by the Chicago doctors, seems to be this. The first examination, the one that may be given by Dr. Lorenz, is but the small beginning of a course of treatment that must be prolonged through months and maybe years. Dr. Lorenz will not be on hand to give any part of this needed subsequent attention, and "few surgeons are willing to take upon themselves the responsibility and trouble involved in giving the post-operative care."

One judges from this that the unfortunate who is twisted and crippled is in a mighty bad way, that there is little chance for him. This is too bad, for it is likely to leave with him an impression that this world is a sad place. For him it seems it is.

THOUGHT IT A MILLION

Some of us thought the "saving" locally on dropping war tax on transportation must be at least a million dollars, but it seems it is not so much. Probably it will not be more than a quarter of a million.

A man stepped up to the railroad ticket window and was handed something that would let him by the train conductor. He was shocked when he asked the price, and in explanation it might be told him there was a war tax of $2.

He looked around the station waiting room and found the place filled with people who were going somewhere, and then he tried to realize that all those honest folk were paying a tax of 8 per cent on the privilege of buying a railroad ticket at a price of one and three-quarters times what he was asked before we got into the unpleasantness and the government did its ivory stunt of taking over the railroads.

It was hard to figure that with everybody paying the 8 per cent the total could be less than a million a year. Anyhow, when we buy a ticket after the first of the year we expect to indulge in the luxury of feeling we have saved a million dollars.

CARRIED TOO FAR.

Talking about not remembering dates, names of streets, or places, it is something that gets carried to excess. We submit the case of the robber who was taken in Carlinville for a job in Pana.

They caught this robber with a lot of goods on him and he was disposed to confess. They asked him where he got the stolen stuff. He replied that really he could not be expected to answer such a question, for he was a stranger in these parts and seldom bothered to learn the name of a town in which he operated. It would not help him any to have the name of the town, and anyway he was never strong on geography. All this is something in which he simply can't be interested.

In this case the robber was recently paroled from a reform school. We feel like urging upon these schools that they lay just a little more stress on the importance of geography. If some miscreant happens along and robs Decatur we don't want him messing things up later by thinking he was in Warrensburg.

HARD-HEADED COURTS

Recently a state commission ruled that the street car fare in Chicago should be 5 cents. The matter was appealed to a bank of federal judges, where an injunction was asked.

In the hearing in court attorneys were inclined to toy with rhetoric. The court repeatedly reminded them: "There is only one question and that is whether the 5 cen fare is confiscatory."

We do well to have this court remark in mind. It means that if we pile a lot of extra expenditure on these companies we shall have the bill to pay in the end. It will not help us any in court to make a pass at big speeches and try to pull a lot of sob stuff. The question of a reasonable return on the investment will be the only matter the court will care to hear about. Sob stuff doesn't help any when it comes to plain figuring.

AFTER A LONG TALK.

It seems that at last we are about to proceed with straightening a stretch of the Sangamon river. We learn this from docket entries made in a drainage case in the court at Taylorville.

It is an undertaking of some size, in fact pretty good as a starter. The improvement is estimated to cost $225,000, and it will reclaim 11,000 acres of land. But this is a start at something we have been talking about for close to thirty years. It should increase our patience with talk, for perhaps it means that if we only keep on talking about a thing some day we are likely to do something.

YOUR SACRED AILMENTS.

In the department "If You Are Well Bred," we find this: "You will avoid mentioning in conversation dress, servants, and your own ailments."

A word about ailments. There is no statute against mentioning these, but later there may be a demand for one. One is not sure that it is even necessary to mention them to the doctor when he is called professionally. There is the old tale of the patient who went to see a doctor and was asked what ailed him. He replied that he was paying the doctor $2 to tell him just that, and he wanted his money's worth. That patient was well bred and going 100 per cent.

The hard road is open almost to Harristown, which shows that when you go ahead and do a thing yourself you are pretty sure to have something.

The Charles W. Morse of whom we read these days was due to die early in 1912, according to the truthful doctors who made affidavit in the case.

At Minneapolis they have a justice of the peace who puts in his spare time killing bank bandits, and we would like to inquire if he is open to promotional engagements elsewhere.

If they keep on saying all these nice things about Dr. Will Barnes there will be nothing except a rehash left for his obituary.

The garment workers' strike may not affect the price of coats, but you can be sure it will not lower it; better buy now.

Ladies, if you must buy a necktie for the man of the house at least pick one that will look well on yourselves.

Something is out of kelter when two coal mines at Pana shut down right at the opening of winter.

It strikes one that this suggested receivership for Germany has been delayed a trifle too long.

From The People

Wants Seventh Street Subway.

Decatur, Ill., Dec. 3, 1921.

Editor Review:

We see in your paper that the Association of Commerce has ratified the recommendation of Commissioner Decker to place the subway at Moser crossing, and I want to say that the greater portion of the people of the Northeast suburbs do not approve of a subway at Moser Crossing, but do want one at Seventh street.

True here are a few school children that it might benefit, but some go into town to the High school and use the street cars and others go to the graded schools.

But we are all laboring people, all buying our little homes. Our husbands, sons and daughters who are old enough are working in factories, shops or the city. They all have to cross the tracks at Seventh street, and the Wabash and Illinois Traction men also who have to go north. When we go into the city to do our trading, we nearly all have to go to Eldorado car line, then wives and children have to cross it, and it would seem to me that if the Wabash has to spend its money it would like some return and at Seventh street it will be for the safety of their men and a saving of time for them.

I would like the safety of children considered also, but how can we wives rear our children if the fathers are taken from us by the ever menacing tracks. We would have to sacrifice our homes and go to the city for employment, and many of us know what that would mean.

Commissioner Becker has made us splendid roads on the Green Switch, Ray Bridge, 12th Geddes Ave, and Seventh street to the car line and for farmers to the city limits, and that improvement expense is all in, and not many would go through the mud to get a chance to go through a subway at Moser crossing.

It would seem that Commissioner Becker is back tracking somewhat, as last winter he seemed to be heartily in favor of the subway at Seventh street, but we hope that he has not gone so far back but what he will stand by the record that he has established in the Northeast part of Decatur for good roads, and that he will help us to get the subway at Seventh street crossing, then when that is accomplished and after election, we will expect him to help us get the street car line extended farther north.

We feel if the members of the Association of Commerce had to wait in all kinds of weather at Seventh street crossing on the trains as the people who live north of the railroad have to do, that they would not be so anxious to approve that the subway be put at Moser crossing until they had at least investigated a little farther.

Yours for Seventh street crossing

About Town

A GROUP of Decatur men of considerable motoring experience were talking about the incidents of country driving and several of them had been telling of how many rabbits, chickens, dogs and pigs they had hit during their driving on rural roads.

"Well," remarked H. Clay Dempsey in a rather boastful tone, "I have driven a car 70,000 miles and I do not think that I have ever hit a chicken, rabbit, dog or pig in all of that time."

"Huh" said Porter J. Millikin who was in the group, "Have you forgotten when you ran over a horse?"

Mr. Dempsey admitted that he had not. The horse had fallen on the slippery pavement on West Main street one evening and was lying flat out waiting for its driver to remove the harness when Mr. Dempsey came along in his car. He did not see the horse prone on the pavement and he ran his car right over the prostrate animal.

"Remember when you hit the cow?" spoke up Chris Augur, and Mr. Dempsey concluded that he would say no more about not hitting chickens or rabbits.

Just Folks

FRIENDLINESS.

Just a cheery word or two
Changes skies of gray to blue,
Just a glad hello that's flung
To the neighbors old and young,
Send them on their busy way
Happier for all the day.

Just the waving of a hand—
Something all can understand—
Carries with it something real
Which a troubled heart can feel,
More than words perhaps could say
To the friend across the way.

I have read in eyes that shine
Messages superbly fine;
In one glad glance given me,
Often I've rejoiced to see
More than spoken words can tell
From a friend who wished me well.

Every living mortal knows
Who are friends and who are foes,
He can read it in the eye
Of the distant passer-by;
Though they travel far apart,
He can feel it in his heart.

He can tell it by the way
You salute him day by day.
From the waving of your hand
He can read and understand,
And your friendliness he'll know—
From the way you say "Hello."

TAYLORVILLE WINS PRAISE BY WAY IT TREATS STRANGER

This town of Taylorville down the Wabash railroad from Decatur, a dollar and twelve cents worth, somehow leaves a pleasant taste in your mouth in the opinion of a man who spent some few hours there Friday.

"I think I had more obliging things done for me in Taylorville in the course of an hour than I would have at home in a week," he said. "They began almost as soon as I had set foot in the place. Immediately after getting off the train I determined to learn the time of the next train north. When I went to the ticket office the agent was busy at his telegraph desk and I had no hope of attracting his attention. But there were three or four people in the place and I asked of the office in general:

"What time is No. 10 due here?"

AGENT ANSWERS.

"At 2:32." It was the agent who answered me and he turned his head to make his answer direct and plain. It almost dazed me, the politeness, promptness and conciseness of the answer.

"Next I went to a county office for some information. A young man was called from an adjacent room to wait on me. He set me right as to the title and brought out a stack of files, maps and dockets. Since he was unable to give me some information he asked a woman, apparently the head of the office She gave me fifteen or twenty minutes of her time and was ready to give more. She interpreted a docket, gathered more files and furnished information from her own head. She wished me to come again if I needed anything more.

MORE ATTENTION.

"Next I went to a law office. The attorney was not in but his secretary was. She was evidently busy but she paused to ask if she could help me.

"I did not think she could but I stated my business. 'You want to see Mr. So-and-so to find out about that. He is here today and he may be at the county clerk's office right now. I'll see.'

"She called the county clerk's office over the telephone. She called two or three other law offices. She learned that he would be in court at 2:30. I told her that I wished to leave town on No. 10. She called the Wabash station to make sure of the time of the train. She called the Antlers hotel and located my man and made an appointment with him Two minutes more took me to the fountain head of information who was equally obliging. Incidentally I had an excellent dinner and made my train. I really hated to leave the town although I did not meet a single person that I had ever seen before."

German Emperor of Finance

HUGO STINNES.

New York, Dec. 3.—The secret of Hugo Sinnes' success is out! Stinnes is the new German emperor—of industry! He is the biggest business man in Europe and one of the biggest in the world.

Starting as a small business man in the Rhineland, Stinnes made himself economic emperor of Germany. Now he's planning the economic conquest of all Europe.

How did he do it? That's told in these three maxims that Stinnes gives to business men—and women—and to everyone who wants to reach the top:

THREE MAXIMS.

"ONE. Work all the while—even when the workmen under you are enjoying rest and recreation.

"TWO. When you're about to start a new enterprise, ask two preliminary questions. In the first place, where's the man to organize it? Secondly, where are the efficient workmen? If those two requisites are lacking keep your hands off. You must leave to the organizer what is the organizer's business—leadership.

"THREE. See to it that labor gets a fair reward out of the enterprise."

NEW BIOGRAPHY.

These Stinnes principles are brought out in a biography of the German industrialist by Dr. Herman Brinckmeyer, which Huebsch will publish here.

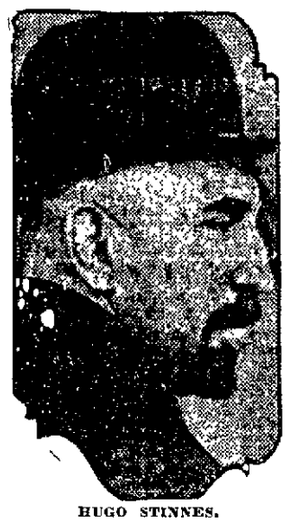
It's the application of these principles that have enabled Stinnes to succeed.

He started as the son of Matthias Stinnes, who controlled a barge transportation line on the Rhine. At 20 he was up to his neck in his father's business. Soon it became too small for him and he began organizing companies of his own.

Those were trying days in German industry. Small industry was breathing its last and the trust era was coming in.

That meant ruin for most small industries. To Stinnes it meant chance for conquest.

The World War came. Industry



HUGO STINNES.

was shattered. But Stinnes moved on. He was the German government's most powerful tool in exploiting seized Belgian industries.

SEIZES OPPORTUNITY.

Then came peace and revolution and more industrial troubles. But Stinnes seized upon the absence of a solid German government as an opportunity for pushing his industrial conquests still further. Today Stinnes:

OWNS more coal mines, steel plants and manufactories in Germany than anyone else.

HAS pushed his conquests into Austria, Belgium and Italy.

PROMOTES amusement resorts and watering places.

CONTROLS a string of newspapers.

OPERATES three big shipping lines.

HEADS a German political party.

Stinnes is now in London. Some say he's going to re-establish German credit before he leaves, put Germany on a sound economic basis and restore the mark to par.

Deadliest Weapon

By DR. WILLIAM E. BARTON

SEVERAL years ago there occurred in Chicago a disastrous fire in the Iroquois theater. The whole world was shocked. Building commissioners in every American city set to work inspecting local assembly places, requiring modifications to prevent fire and, in case of fire, to diminish the risk of mortality. The town hall in Skowhegan Me., and the church in Snohomish, Wash., and the school house in Santa Mateo, N. M., all were looked over and attempt was made to eliminate fire hazard and to save human life.

DR. BARTON.

I was a witness of the Iroquois fire. I chanced to be diagonally across the street when the first fire-engine came up and I was on the ground before there was any crowd. I saw what occurred that day.

Five hundred and eighty-two lost their lives in the Iroquois fire.

I have no doubt that the theaters in Bombay, India, and in Canton, China, are builded less dangerously on account of that loss of 582 lives.

The coroner of Cook county, which included Chicago, in checking up his figures a few weeks ago, found that from Dec. 1, 1920, when his fiscal year begins, till Oct. 15, 1921, ten and one-half months, the fatal accidents of automobiles in Chicago chanced to reach precisely the same total—582.

These people are just as dead as those who were killed in the Iroquois fire, but no very great interest is shown. Chicago is killing people at the rate of 42 a week, largely by automobile.

Of those killed by automobile last year, 497 were children, not statistical children but happy little boys and sweet little girls who belonged to some one.

Herod was a tender-hearted gentleman compared with modern speed-crazed society.

I give these figures from Chicago because I happen to have been furnished the facts about that city. Chicago is just as bad as other American cities and no worse.

When is this slaughter of the innocents to cease?

Chicago every day has six funerals resulting from accidents, mostly preventable. Besides it has 144 accidents a day sufficiently serious to send an ambulance call. Six hearses and 144 ambulances make a sorrowful procession. But it goes steadily through the highways, picking up the dead and wounded.

ASKS SQUARE DEAL FOR COUNTRY CHILD

May Educational Advantages in City.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The greatest need in education in the United States today is "a square deal for the country child," John J. Tigert, commissioner of Education declared today in a statement issued in connection with the opening of American Education Week. While no child in democratic education in America, he said, the opportunity is by no means equal."

GREAT DIFFERENCE.

Asserting that two-thirds of the nation's 300,000 schools are one room buildings, Mr. Tigert said the average expenditure each year for the city child was $40 30 against $23.91 for his rural brother. Urban schools he said were open 182 days a year, on an average, against 142 days for those in the country, and the average city teacher received a salary of $854 against $479 for the rural teacher.

Educational advantages are the chief reason for the drift from farm to city, he continued, adding that "the same financial support, consolidated schools and good roads, would solve the difficulty."

Mary Goes Shopping in Paris

BY MARIAN HALE.

New York, Dec. 5—Mary Pickford has been shopping over in Paris.

Shown here are two of her purchases.

Of course, every woman of the youthful, ingenue type will immediately take notice.

Mary purchased a lot of gowns in Paris, but none of them is more girlishly chic than the rose taffeta for afternoon.

This simple bodice with the slightly low neck and with the merest suspicion of a tiny cap for a sleeve has a bouffant skirt with very full overskirt effect at the sides.

Silken flowers decorate the ribbons and tiny wreaths of flowers strap the shoulders. This gown is of chiffon over taffeta.

Both gowns are long.

Egg Desserts

By Sister Mary.

WHEN eggs are high in price the conscientious housekeeper hesitates to use many for desserts.

One egg can be made to take the place of many if judiciously used in conjunction with some old-fashioned elbow grease.

These desserts are planned to serve four persons.

DUTCH PEACH PUDDING.

One and one-half cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons butter, ¾ cup milk, 1 egg, sugar, nutmeg, canned peaches.

Drain peaches from sirup. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in butter slightly softened. Beat egg till light and add milk. Add to dry mixture and beat well. Pour into a well buttered, deep pan. Add peaches, sprinkle with sugar, gauging the amount of sweetness of the fruit, dust with nutmeg and bake in a moderate oven. The peaches will sink in the batter. Bake half an hour and serve warm with top milk.

STRAWBERRY FLOAT.

One cup canned strawberries drained from their sirup, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1½ cups milk, 1 dessertspoon flour, ¼ cup granulated sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Separate white and yolk of egg. Put white, powdered sugar and drained berries in a bowl and beat with a dover beater until stiff. This will take twenty minutes.

Put yolk of egg in top of double boiler with granulated sugar, salt and flour. Mix perfectly smooth and pour over scalded milk. Cook over hot water till custard coats the spoon. Remove and, when cool, add vanilla. Pour into a glass dish and drop the strawberry mixture from a tablespoon on the custard and serve at the table.

BANANA SNOW.

Two bananas, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon water, 1 egg.

Peel bananas and scrape off the outside. Mash with sugar and lemon juice. Beat white of egg with water till stiff and dry. This egg white must be beaten on a platter with a wire whisk. Fold in the banana mixture and chill to serve. Make little cup cakes, using the yolk of the egg.

BAKED NUT AND DATE PUDDING.

One egg, 2-3 cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon water, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ¾ cup chopped English walnuts, ¾ cup chopped dates.

Beat first five ingredients well. Add nuts and dates. Turn into a buttered pan and bake 20 minutes in a slow oven. Serve with whipped cream.

TAPIOCA CREAM.

Two cups milk, 2 tablespoons minute tapioca, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1-3 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Scald milk. Put milk, tapioca and salt in top of double boiler and cook 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Beat the yolk of the egg with sugar. Stir into tapioca and continue cooking until mixture thickens like custard. Remove and beat in the white of the egg whisked till stiff and dry. Add lemon juice and vanilla. Set aside to chill.

Start Move to Aid Jobless Girls in New York City

Ten per cent more stenographers are out of work here today than a year ago, and the pawnshops are full of fur coats.

And while every one is excited about unemployment among men, no one seems to worry about the girls.

At least, no one did until the Young Women's Christian Association became aware of the situation and started out to remedy it.

Now Mrs. William Fellows Morgan, president of the metropolitan branch of the Young Women's Christian Association, has started a movement to find a job for every girl who needs one.

"The clerical and office workers really are suffering," she says. "There is little unemployment among factory and industrial workers. They're holding their jobs and getting the same high wage as during the war. The college-trained and specialized workers unfit for factory work are the ones hit now."

MRS. WM. FELLOWS MORGAN.

If You Are Well Bred

You will always have "Miss" precede your name on calling cards if you are unmarried.

You will have a black border on your mourning cards, the width varying with the nearness of the deceased.

You will send your mother's card with your own when sending flowers to a young man who is ill.

You will fold your napkin double before placing it across your lap.

Taffy

Boil over a slow fire 1 quart of molasses and 1 gill of water. Stir in one tablespoon of butter and 1 teaspoon of brown sugar. Boil until mixture hardens in water then turn into buttered pan.

ONE PAINTING OF DECATUR TREE

More Than Fifty Attend Art Exhibit Sunday.

In addition to the color etchings of the California missions shown in the Mayhew collection at the Art Institute there is one of a large tree with its foliage turned to bright colors by the first frosts. This picture, to which Mrs. Mayhew has given the title of "Autumn Gold," is of a large tree which once stood, possibly does yet, in the yard of the Maffit homestead near the Maffit bridge near Riverside park, Decatur. Mrs. Mayhew, then Miss Danely, once lived in Decatur where her father was established as a Methodist presiding elder.

More than fifty visitors inspected both the Mayhew collection of color etchings and the Pennell collection of black and white etchings Sunday afternoon. The little collection of miniatures shown in the cabinet in the dining room also interested the visitors. The exhibit will be shown during all of this month every afternoon and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Indigestion or Sour, Gassy Stomach

"Pape's Diapepsin" gives Relief in Five Minutes

"Pape's Diapepsin" relieves stomach distress in five minutes. You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one —your stomach is too valuable; you mustn't injure it with drastic drugs. Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief, its harmlessness, its certain unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large sixty-cent case from any drug store, and then if you should eat something which doesn't agree with you, if what you eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea, eructations of acid and undigested food —remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all indigestion vanishes. It is the most efficient antacid known—the certainty and ease with which it overcomes stomach and digestive disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

Don't try to save money buying cheap or big-can Baking Powders. You can't do it. You'll throw out more in spoiled bakings than you save on price of the powder. And don't think that old style high priced powders are best because they cost most. They are not.

has proved in millions of bake-day tests that it is the best baking powder ever made—that's why it is the biggest selling baking powder in the world today. No other baking powder makes such temptingly good—tender, wholesome bakings. No baking powder of anywhere near the same quality is sold at such a low price.

You use less of Calumet—because it is the highest grade baking powder. One teaspoonful is equal to two teaspoonfuls of many other brands.

And there is no "luck" about it when you use Calumet. No loss. It is absolutely sure. It is the most economical of all. Millions of housewives use it — and so do leading domestic science teachers and cooking experts.

You save when you buy it.
You save when you use it.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

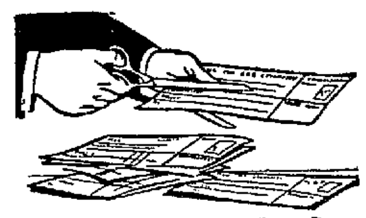
CHAMBERS FIRELESS GAS RANGES



Cuts Gas Bills

The Chambers Fireless actually costs you nothing—here's the proof of it:

You have been accustomed to using 90 to 120 minutes of gas to cook your roasts—a Chambers Fireless will do it as well with 20 to 30 minutes of gas.

The same proportion exists on other things you cook.

Saves the Flavor

In addition to the saving of fuel, a big daily saving of high-priced food flavor makes a rapidly growing cash return.

Cooking in this way, you have as much meat out of an 8½-pound roast as you formerly had out of 10 pounds. The rest went out in steam.

The same proportion exists on other things you cook.

Saves your Time

In time, health and convenience, a Chambers Fireless rapidly pays for itself—here's the proof of it:

You have been accustomed to assigning your morning to preparation of dinner, in the old way. The Chambers Way is to start your baking or roasting in the oven or your boiling under the hood, and with the food started there is no reason to spend further time in the kitchen.

Lessens Labor

How many steps are wasted daily in "running back to the kitchen" to see the dinner?

You have been accustomed to "watching the pot" day by day—three times a day—basting your roast, for instance,

A Chambers Fireless, retaining all food flavors and steam, requires no water to keep the roast from burning, and is self-basting.

Once a meal is started, no more steps need to be spent in the kitchen until it is served.

FOR THIS WEEK ONLY

WE HAVE ARRANGED A SPECIAL PRE-CHRISTMAS SALE IN WHICH WE ARE ABLE TO OFFER

25% DISCOUNT

FROM THE PRICE OF ANY CHAMBERS FIRELESS, IN EXCHANGE FOR YOUR OLD GAS RANGE.

PROMOTES FAMILY ALTAR LEAGUE

Rev. W. M. Holderly Speaks Number of Times Sunday.

Rev. W. M. Holderly spoke in a number of the Decatur churches Sunday in the interests of the Family Altar League of which he is the national secretary. He made short talks in the First Methodist and First Christian churches in the morning, in the First United Brethren, Congregational and Central Church of Christ in the evening, and addressed a union meeting in the First Presbyterian church in the afternoon. Monday morning he spoke to the high school students and also at the meeting of the Ministerial association.

This Family Altar league was started in Chicago a number of years ago by Evangelist Biederwolf. The object is to improve the home life by a study of practical religion. A number of prominent men are back of the organization. The Family Altar magazine is the publication and this magazine furnished a scripture lesson, some leading thoughts and a prayer for each day. It has a large circulation but an attempt is being made to get more people to read it. People are urged this year to use the magazine more and carry out the aims of the society.

RELIGIOUS DANCE STAGED FOR PRINCE

Bikaner, India, Dec. 5.—A religious fire dance was held for the Prince of Wales as part of the program of entertainment given during his stay here. Bare-legged natives danced through embers of a great bonfire built in the quadrangle of the fort. As they danced they sang wildly, and snatched up portions of the fiery mass which they placed in their mouths.

A shower of sparks followed their footsteps and the heat of the fire could be felt ten yards away. Subsequently they pirouetted before the prince, inviting inspection of their legs and feet which were apparently moist and cool.

Several members of the prince's staff burned their fingers in attempting to pick up some of the embers.

Nautch girls danced, and a juggler danced on swords, spikes and saws for the edification of the royal visitor. The entertainment was completed with the singing of "God Save the King" in the Marwar tongue.

Rev. and Mrs. R. F. McDaniel in Charge of Revival.

Every seat in the recreation room of the new St. Paul's Methodist church, corner Witt and Prairie streets, was filled Sunday evening at which time the first service in the new building was held. All services will be held in this room until the auditorium is finished. The building is coming along nicely and it is hoped that it will be finished by early spring.

Revival services will be held each evening this week, beginning with a song service at 7 o'clock and preaching at 7:30 by Rev. Mr. McDaniel.

BLOOMINGTON MAN'S

Statement Was Correct.

Commenting on the statement appearing in Sunday's Review by a Bloomington man that he was so surprised that a furniture store had the largest stock of toys in Decatur.

Mr. Norman, manager of Scovill's store stated that the gentleman was correct in the statement that ordinarily, furniture stores do not sell toys but that Scovills was no ordinary furniture store.

The Scovill store makes a specialty of toys. This store has been Santa Claus headquarters for Central Illinois for almost a third of a century. Santa Claus has been personally receiving his children in this store years before most of the present toy stores were in existance.

30 salesladies are required to take care of the immense business we do. If you don't visit our toy department, said Mr. Norman you haven't seen Toyland.—Adv.

INGROWN TOE NAIL
TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

Try This If You Have Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Staleys Annex 1921 Professional Title by Win Over Buffalo

Defeat Bisons, 10 to 7, Before 12,000 Fans—Chamberlain and Sternaman Shine.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 5—The Decatur Staleys proved to the satisfaction of 12,000 grid followers here Sunday that they are without doubt the greatest professional eleven in the country by defeating the heretofore unbeaten Buffalo All Americans by a score of 10 to 7 in the title game.

Buffalo with a team stronger than the one which slipped over a 7 to 6 win on the starchworkers in the Thanksgiving day battle was out played, out fought and out smarted by the Halas machine during most of the game.

TWO STARS.

Two names will stand out in the victory which is the first pro title ever won by an Illinois eleven. To Guy Chamberlain and Dutch Sternaman belong the lion's share of the honors. The former gave his team the lead when he raced 30 yards for a touchdown after intercepting a Buffalo pass while Sternaman booted the goal which gave the starchworkers their margin of victory.

PLAYS GREAT GAME.

While Chamberlain's long run was the bright spot of the contest his going down the field under punts and tackling was nothing short of marvelous and no less than five times did he down Anderson or Oliphant in their tracks after receiving Huffine's kicks. Several times he would tackle the man so hard. He would be driven back two and three yards.

Next to Chamberlain and Sternaman, for it was the latter who delivered the winning counter, the play of Stinchcomb and Huffine stood out on the offensive end of the game.

RETURNS PUNTS.

Stinchcomb despite a slippery footing returned several punts for good gains and on one end run was apparently loose for dash to the goal when he slipped in a soft spot.

Huffine shot off tackle for terrific smashes at the Buffalo line and kicked in fine style during the entire game.

ALL AMERICANS FAIL.

Elmer Oliphant and Oke Anderson a pair of All Americans with the Buffalo eleven along the Hughitt and Smith the old Michigan backs found the Staley line a stone wall to their attack and relied on short pass or wide attempts at the ends.

Their best work came after the start of the contest where they took the ball well into Staley territory. The starchworkers braced and with nine yards to go on the fourth down the forward pass was brought into play. Chamberlain intercepted it near the side line and headed straight up the field. Only one Buffalo man had a chance to run him down and Tarzan Taylor upset him with a beautiful body check.

FOLLOW THE BALL.

The Decatur eleven followed the ball in fine style for Halas and Trafton recovered four other passes during the game which came at opportune minutes of the battle.

Pearce's generalship was of the highest type and on several occassions the Staleys made the visitors look bad. In one instance the All Americans figured a kick and permitted Chamberlain to play out wide.

Huffine saw the opportunity and shot a long pase to Guy on the fourth down. On another occasion with two yards to go the Staleys took time out for Sternaman to change to a dry shoe for a kick and then Huffine smashed over for a first down.

LINE A STONEWALL.

While it is seldom that linemen receive the just amount of credit for their work the fans who saw the contest Sunday had a chance to see a forward wall stand out prominently.

Time and time again Trafton, Taylor and Smith would pile up the Buffalo backs after a one yard gain for the attack of the visitors was directed at Trafton during the early part of the game and the big boy was groggy on several occasions after stopping plays. He remained in the contest and put up a whale of a battle.

EASY FOR TACKLES.

Blacklock and Scott had plenty of work to do on the Buffalo end runs but on most of the attempts the two big tackles were through to smear the interference leaving the man with the ball of Halas or Chamberlain. Once in awhile Oliphant would get away but the longest gain around an end was nine yards which only shows the sterling defense of the Staleys.

SCORE A SURPRISE.

The Buffalo score came so soon after the start of the second ...If that the fans had hardly been settled in their seats.

Following the kickoff the starchworkers failed to gain from their own 20 yard line and Huffine stepped back to punt. Youngstrom was through like a shot to block the ball and he and Herning fell on it back of the goal line. Oliphant kicked an easy goal tieing the score.

LONG KICK OFF.

Trafton kicked off for Staleys the ball going between the posts and hitting the wall on the fly. He drove the ball about 70 yards. Buffalo was unable to gain and Oliphant kicked to Stinchcomb who returned the ball 13 yards to the 48 yard line. Pete hit for five yards and Huffine made it first down on Buffalo's 47 yard mark. Stinchcomb made a yard and Huffine hit for six more. Pass failed. Huffine shot pass to Chamberlain who was stopped on Buffalo 27 yard line. Sternaman smashed off tackle for four yards. He added another. Dutch carried the ball to Buffalo 15 yard mark. Huffine took two smashes at the line which gave him four yards. Buffalo intercepted a pass on the five yard line.

Oliphant was crowded by the wall and the ball was moved up five yards so he could kick. He punted to Stinchcomb on the 35 yard line and he returned it 10 yards. Huffine hit for eight yards. Buffalo held and Sternaman changed shoes. Huffine smashed through to the 12 yard line. Sternaman failed to gain. Pearce went through center for four yards. Sternaman took ball to Buffalo five yard mark. He stopped back and kicked a perfect goal.

IN BUFFALO TERRITORY.

The rest of the game was played in Buffalo territory and neither eleven had a chance to score with the exception of the time Stinchcomb slipped in the mud.

Buffalo tried many passes in the final quarter and after failing were forced to kick a number of times. The Halas machine played safe at all times and use Huffine to drive the ball back into Buffalo territory with his long punts.

TITLE CHATTER

Western champions in 1920 and a tie with the world's champs and the world's title in 1921. That isn't a bad record for the Decatur eleven in their first two years of the pro game.

The greatest crowd that ever saw a pro game in Chicago was in the stands. The official figures will show a better attendance than the Akron game last season. The days were almost identical from a playing condition although it was a little colder Sunday than in 1920.

three or four minutes following Sternaman's place kick. Dutch drove the ball over the wall and some kid made away with it. The Staley balls were not blown up as well as they should have been and Trafton's kick was poor on that account.

Five minutes later a big copper came in at the bleacher gate with the kid and ball. The ball was put in use while John Law marched the kid up to headquarters. They are sure there when it comes to catching boys.

There were about 75 Decatur people sprinkled through the stands. George Chamberlain and Jim Galloway were present while Ray Demmitt and Boob Keck saw their favorites win. Frank Liston was in the press coop keeping the chilly winds off the operator.

George Halas pulled a neat play in the first quarter when he recovered Trafton's kickoff on the Buffalo 35 yard line following the Staley touchdown. The end was down the field like a flash and dove on the ball just as it crossed the side line.

It looked like a tie game when Oliphant booted the goal in the third period but the Staleys were not discouraged after having the kick blocked and recovered. They came back and played the All Americans off their feet.

According to several the play was intended to be a pass and the backs went down instead of remaining to block for Huffine. That may have been the case but it was certainly a poor place to be trying forward passes.

A number of the coaches of middle western universities and colleges saw the contest. Some of them had coached the players on the Staley team during their college days.

We sat up until two bells Sunday morning talking to "Jumbo" Stiehm the old Nebraska U coach, and now Indiana director. Jumbo told a good story on how he found Guy Chamberlain the day he drove out to his farm near Beatrice to interest Guy in his state university. Maybe Guy remembers that day.

Trafton and the rest of the Staley line took some punishment in the game but it was not necessary for the starchworkers to make a single substitution.

Oliphant put over a number of place kicks in practice before the game but the old Purdue and Army star never had a chance to try his toe during the contest.

The Staleys won the title just in time for snow started to fall soon after the game and another day would have no doubt stopped the game. If the starchworkers play another contest it will be with Paddy Driscoll's Chicago Cardinals. Many of the fans in Chicago want to see the two teams meet.

"IN OLD TYPE"

During the last few seasons fans at basketball games have seen the "stalling game" brought into play a number of times by the team which has a two or three point margin with only a few minutes remaining to play.

Those who were in attendance at the state high school finals at Illinois will recall that Marion kept the ball in their possession under the Rockford basket for nearly the last five minutes of play.

Unless a team brings all their men down the floor it is a very hard thing to break up and the wise coaches would instruct their captain to call time out which would force a jump ball to resume play and the team not in possession of the ball had a chance to get it near their own basket on the jump.

This season it will be necessary for teams to come down the floor in order to break it up for under a new rule a captain cannot call for time out except for an injury or when his team has possession of the ball so that the time out method of breaking up the stalling game cannot be brought into play.

The stalling method of winning basketball games while perfectly legitimate under the rules, has done more to create poor sportsmanship on the floor or between schools than any other one thing.

It would be a great thing if the coaches in all conferences would agree to abolish it as poor sportsmanship although some will say that it takes skill to keep possession of the ball.

HISTORY MADE IN BOWLING TOURNEY

Mid West Records Smashed in 1921 Events.

Des Moines, Iowa, Dec. 5.—Three shifts of bowlers, for the most part from Chicago and Omaha, will get the last chance to get into the money in the annual Mid-west Bowling tournament which closes Monday afternoon.

Records have had little effect on the bowlers of this tournament. The records of the Mid-west association have been broken in each class. In addition the world's tournament records have been raised in the singles, doubles and all-events. The new singles mark was made by George Falkenbach of St. Joseph, Mo., when he made a score of 726. Yesterday J. Danek and J. Hradek of Chicago set a new world's record in the doubles with a score of 1,351. The all-events record is held by a 30-year-old youth from Des Moines who shot a score of 1911.

STANDINGS.

The standings of the leading three in the four events follow:

FIVE-MAN EVENT.

Hutchinson Ice Cream, Des Moines, 3,017; Fritzi Scheffs, Chicago, 2,967; Battistini Brothers, Chicago, 2,942.

DOUBLES.

Danek-Hradek, Chicago, 1,351; Kafora-Davis, Chicago, 1,317; Matak-Van Haven, St. Paul, 1,279.

SPORT BRIEFS.

Los Angeles— Elaborate arrangements have been made by the southern California Washington and Jefferson Alumni association to entertain Washington and Jefferson football squad on arrival here to play University of California at Pasadena, January 2.

Stanford University—Receipts from the football game dedicating the New Stanford stadium between California and Stanford, Nov. 19, were more than $210,000, W. D. Fletcher, graduate manager, has announced.

New York — Three former champions and a newly crowned title holder in the fistic world will appear in bouts scheduled here this week. Pete Herman and Joe Lynch, former bantam champions, Mike O'Dowd, former middleweight king, and Johnny Dundee, the junior lightweight champion, will box Johnny Buff, Max Williamson and Lou Bogash, respectively.

New York—Frank Frisch, third baseman of the Giants, was one of the six players in the league who made more than 200 hits. He was one of the six players who took part in every game played by their respective clubs. He was one of the nine players who made five hits in one game. He was one of the 10 players who scored 4 runs in one game. He out-distanced the base runners with 49 stolen bases.

New York—Jake Schaefer, world's 18.2 balk line billiard champion, will meet Roger Conti, the French cue star, in the first round of a 3,200 point match Monday. Conti has won two recent matches from the new champion. Two blocks of 400 points will be played each day.

HORSE KICKS BOY IN FACE

Harry Garren Taken to Hospital; Harold Coffman Also Hurt.

Harry Lee Garren, a small boy residing on Rural Route No. 6 out of Decatur, was kicked in the face by a horse while visiting at the home of his uncle on the same route Sunday afternoon. He was brought to St. Mary's hospital but his injuries are not serious.

WALKS INTO AUTO.

Harold Coffman, residing on Route No. 2, was slightly injured when he walked into the side of an auto at the corner of Seventh and Condit streets Sunday evening. He was able to leave the St. Mary's hospital Monday morning. At first he was thought badly injured and was taken to the hospital in Moran's ambulance. Two cars with bright lights burning were approaching and so also was the car of Marsh Stover, another resident of Route 2, but Stover was using his dim lights. Coffman, blinded by bright lights, didn't see the Stover car and walked into it.

Warm Session Promised For Conference Mentors Friday

I. I. A. C. Chiefs Gather in Bloomington This Week —Many Important Matters.

With the annual meeting of the I. I. A. C. scheduled to be held next Friday in Bloomington there appears to be a very warm session in store for the coaches and faculty representatives.

Two great possibilities loom up in the horizon either of which will not surprise the close followers of affairs in the circuit. One is the drawing away of some of the so called larger schools that have been setting the pace in athletic for the last ten years and the other is the addition of schools like Lake Forest and Bradley with the hopes of building an even stronger conference.

PLAY OUTSIDERS.

Bradley has enjoyed a fine grid season as a free lance school while Knox, and Lombard failed to meet many of the conference elevens and with the Schissler regeme showing great promise for the future it is doubtful if the Universalists will have many of the conference schools on their chart next season.

Knox and Millikin both have their eye on better competition and look to games with out of the state schools. Illinois Wesleyan is planning a great athletic boom that received its part this fall and with a new gym and a sodded field for next season expect to bracon out.

COULD BE ARRANGED.

If the strongest schools in the conference wanted to meet the same as the Big Ten there isn't a one but what would find plenty of competition. All would set their goal with the leader and some great contests would be the result in all branches of sport.

On the other hand there are many who have tired of seeing the same schools on the schedules year in and year out except where there is that natural rivalry that has grown up such as Knox-Lombard, Millikin-Wesleyan, Bradley-Eureka and the like.

OTHER MATTERS.

Arranging football schedules will be a tame matter to some of the business that is to come up if some of the dope that has been spilled around the circuit is correct.

Eligibility of certain football players on different teams, is sure to furnish the customary yearly scramble while the basketball tournament is another thing that will draw forth some outbursts of oratory both for and against.

Baseball and track schedules will be arranged, officers elected and the usual routine of affairs that makes the day a strenuous one for all of the coaches and faculty representatives.

Fred Muhl, president of the I. I. A. C. will preside and as the old Wesleyan mentor is quite a diplomat in handling meetings things should sail along in order to say the least.

Considerable Trapping.

Considerable success in trapping along the shores of the Sangamon and on the banks of Stevens creek and the tile ditches is reported by those why buy pelts.

Two boys came in from Piatt county Friday with a fine black mink pelt and there have been quite a large number of coon, possum, musk rat and skunk skins brought in by trappers. There is a surprisingly large amount of money realized each winter from the trapping of fur bearing animals locally.

ASSUMPTION HAS GOOD 1921 MARK

The Assumption Independents proved to be the strongest independent eleven in this section of the state outside of the Taylorville aggregation which put over a 28 to 0 verdict on the Fults eleven.

Stonington also won a game from Assumption but that team had two victories to its credit over that team, the last one coming on a neutral field Thanksgiving day by a 10 to 0 count.

Those were the only two elevens to score on Assumption during the entire season and with a team made up of all home players can be proud of their record for the 1921 season.

Plans are under way for another strong eleven next season and with all the fans behind the move a fast eleven should represent the town in 1922.

AKRON TRIMS CARDS WITH FORWARD PASS

Both Teams Play Good Football in Game at Normal Park.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 5.—Akron's professional football team defeated the Chicago Cardinals Sunday at Normal park, 7 to 0, before 3,500 gridiron fans.

The visitors scored their touchdown in the final period on a forward pass, King to Sheeks. The pass was perfect and after catching the oval the Akron quarter back sprinted 25 yards to the goal line. Copley kicked goal.

The Cardinals had all the better of the play in the first half. In the opening quarter the local eleven rushed the oval to Akron's two yard line, but was unable to cross the scoring mark. After losing the ball on downs, Cardinals again started for the goal, but were held before they threatened seriously.

Both elevens played good football and each displayed a highly polished forward pass attack.

Clinton, Dec. 5.—The praecipe of a damage suit for $10,000 has been filed in the circuit court by Mrs. Lulu Wilson, through Attorney John E. Cassidy of Peoria, against the Illinois Central railroad. Mrs. Wilson is administratrix of the estate of Leonard Dunakey, deceased. It will be remembered that Dunakey, who was a son of Mrs. Wilson, was killed when a Longbrake grocery company truck of which he was the driver, was struck at the Snell crossing north of Clinton June 2. Dunakey was 21 years of age.

HALLSVILLE INMATE DIES.

The death of Mrs. Mollie Stillwell, who has made her home at the Dewitt county farm for a number of years, occurred at that institution Saturday evening, following a brief illness. Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simpson, prosperous Dewitt county people, and was 54 years of age. She was possessed of a small estate and paid her way at the farm. The remains were prepared for burial at the Pullen undertaking parlors and shipped to Larue county, Ky., Monday morning for interment.

MAY SETTLE ESTATE.

The Walden estate case probably will be settled within a short time, ending litigation that has been in Dewitt county courts for the last ten years.

Elijah Walden, owner of a 160-acre farm, died in 1905 and was followed by his wife in death five years later. The farm had been left to the widow during her life time and the heirs were in a dispute shortly after Mrs. Walden's death. Friday the commissioners made their report and it was accepted by the heirs. Herrick & Herrick are attorneys for Grant Walden; W. F. Gray for E. C. and Lincoln Walden and Smith & Smith for the minor heirs of Gardner Walden.

CENTRAL MAKES CHANGES.

In line with the recent yard changes, three engine foremen were taken off Saturday. These foremen were located in the callers' office at the crossing and cared for the trainmen's board. The duties will now be taken over by switch tenders located at the Macon street crossing, where the crew lists will be kept.

The building occupied by the callers is being moved to its new location at the Macon street crossing, opposite the freight house.

TWO WILLS PROBATED.

The will of the late Mary Cackley was admitted to probate in the county court Saturday by Judge John Bedinger and Fred Hennis of Clinton appointed administrator. Mr. Hennis is a brother of deceased, with whom she made her home.

The second was that of McDonald Robbins of Dewitt, who died recently. The estate consists of considerable property in the village of Dewitt and goes to the widow of deceased

LANDMARK SOLD.

The old Gideon hotel property in the 200 block on North Center street was sold to Fred Rundle of Clinton for $2,075 at public auction Saturday. Judd McGowan, local auctioneer, officiated.

The building was a two-story structure with a 40 foot frontage on Center street and was built in the late 50's. The lot, however, is a desirable location and Mr. Rundle is considered to have made a buy.

BUYS GARAGE.

Ralph Murry of Clinton has purchased the H. H. Taylor garage on North Quincy street and has taken possession. Mr Murry is the son of S. E. Murry, local shoe merchant, and has been representative of the Dodge car in Dewitt county for some time. Mr. Taylor will retain the old Forbes garage on East Washington street.

TROOPS PATROL MEXICAN BOUNDARY

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 5.—A detachment of 15 men of the Thirty-second Infantry, with machine guns, left Yuma shortly after midnight for special patrol duty along the international boundary line, according to private dispatches received here early this morning.

Persistent rumors in army circles said that rebels from lower California were preparing to cross the Colorado river at some point between Andrale, a head gate of the Imperial valley irrigation project and San Luis, Sonora, 26 miles south of here to attack San Luis before morning. The detachment was sent from Yuma, army officers said, to prevent the rebel band from passing through Arizona territory.

WHEAT SCORES GAIN ON EARLY TRADING

Oats Uninfluenced By Corn Price Fall.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Wheat averaged a little higher in price today during the early dealings. Buying on the part of houses with seaboard connections tended to encourage bulls and to London dispatches reiterating that Japan of late had been a purchaser on a large scale. On the upturns however, the southwest appeared to be selling freely. Opening quotations which ranged from 1-8 to ⅞c higher, with December $1.13¼ to $1.13½ and May $1 17 to $1.17¼, were followed by a moderate setback and then by a fresh advance

Selling from southwestern sources led subsequently to a sharp setback for the July delivery and acted as a drag on old crop months The close was heavy, ¼ to 3 3-8c net lower, with December $1 12 and May $1 15 1-8 to $1 15¼.

CORN DOWNWARD INCLINED.

Corn had a downward inclination in the absence of any aggressive support. After opening ¼c lower to a shade advance, May 54⅝ to 54¾c, the market sagged a little all around.

Oats were governed more by wheat than corn starting 1-8@¼ to ¼ to 3-8c up May 38⅝ to 38¾@⅞ and then remaining relatively firm.

Cash houses were on the selling side. The close was weak, ⅝ to 1c net lower, with May a. 54c.

PROVISIONS STEADY.

Trade in provisions was at a practical standstill, with prices nominally steady.

LIVE STOCK AND GRAIN STEADY

Hens and Springs Advance One Cent.

Both cash corn and hogs were somewhat lower in the terminal markets Monday but local buyers of both allowed the quotations made last week to stand unchanged.

In poultry and dairy products prices generally were rather firm but there is a slightly easier tone in eggs. Shippers are now quoting fifty-two cents a dozen. Large chickens are in demand at fairly good prices but the small birds, both springs and hens, are not wanted and are priced at low figures.

RAILS AND OILS ARE ONLY WEAK STOCKS

Equipment Assumes Commanding Position.

New York, Dec. 5—Continued apathy of rails and oils, in the face of general strength in almost every other branch of the stock list was the striking feature of the morning session of the Stock Exchange today. Equipments assumed a commanding position under lead of American locomotive, which rose four points. Motors and their subsidiaries as marked by Studebaker, Chandler, Pierce arrow preferred, Bosch magneto and Stromberg rose 1 to 2 points. Shippings, coalers and textiles held their gains. Tobaccos and leathers became more reactionary and Standard oil of New Jersey fell three points. Liberty second and fourth 4¼'s and Victory 4¾'s attained new high records for the year. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

The closing was irregular.

MEAT SHORTAGE NOT EXPECTED

Local Branch Houses Not Disturbed.

There are no indications in the local branch houses of the large packing firms that the strike of the meat cutters which took place Monday morning was looked upon as being likely to curtail the supply of meat.

"I ordered a little extra because of the situation" said O. M. Cummins, manager of the local Morris & Co. house, "but we do not expect to be affected as it is not believed that the strike will seriously cripple the plants."

NO EXTRA SUPPLY.

"Haven't put in an extra pound" said A. R. Runkel, head of the Armour branch here, "Mr. Armour told it to the cutters plainly before the argument started that the packing business would not stop. And it will not. We expect to receive all of the meat that we may need."

"There is no strike at our place" said Oscar Danzeisen of the Danzeisen Packing Co. where there are some members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters association. "But we have made no change in wages."

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.

URGE ATTENDANCE AT P. T. MEETING

Besides the talk given by Rev. William Mathew Holderly, of Chicago, during the auditorium period Monday, Otto Sutterer, president of the Athletic Association gave a short talk. He stressed the necessity of the students urging their parents to attend the Parent-Teacher association meeting Thursday, saying that if the school wants an athletic field, it is their duty to show the business men of the city that they are very much behind the movement before asking them to help in the drive.

Principal Deam asked for a showing of hands of those who intended to urge their parents to attend. The response was small compared to the number of students in the auditorium at the time.

JOINT MEETING.

The Dennis and Oakland teachers are having a joint meeting Monday afternoon in Dennis school to study some educational books.

E. A. GASTMAN.

This room also won the pennant for having the most mothers present at the Mother's club meeting. Miss Emma Bell McDaniel is ill in her home in Lovington and will not return until after the holidays. Mrs. Lycll Hill is her substitute.

WIFE CONFESSES KILLING HUSBAND

Son and Another Man Also Held at Sandoval.

Sandoval, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Grace McConnell is under arrest for killing her husband in their home here Sunday afternoon, and her son, William McConnell, and Tate Harmon, with whom Mrs. McConnell's name has been connected in common gossip for some time, are detained in the county jail at Salem under suspicion of complicity in the tragedy.

McConnell, who was about forty years old and miner, was shot through the back and there was a contusion on his head.

Mrs. McConnell testified at the coroner's inquest that she shot her husband as the culmination of five years of abuse at his hands, and that when she fired the shot he was approaching her and attacking her with a chair. She maintained that she had fired from in front of her husband, but indications point to the fact that he was shot from the rear.

BLUDGEON FOUND.

Both William McConnell and Harmon were in the house at the time of the killing, the latter in a drunken condition. It was shown by Everett Chaffin that Harmon told him about the middle of October that he would "get" McConnell some time, and Frank Luallen testified that after the shot was fired he saw someone come from the house, walk to a clump of weeds in the back yard and throw something away. There he and one or two others found a heavy pear-shaped piece of copper, tied in the toe of a man's sock. They could not be certain that it was McConnell who threw it away.

From these facts and the further fact that it was commonly known that McConnell had accused Harmon of intimacy with his wife, and was planning to get a divorce, the coroner ordered Harmon locked up, along with young McConnell, who despite his youth already has a jail record.

INQUEST POSTPONED.

Because of Harmon's drunken condition, rendering him incapable of testifying, the inquest was adourned until Monday evening. In the light of certain events to which little attention was paid at the time of their occurrence, there is a growing conviction in the minds of the public that the murder of McConnell was premeditated.

BIG DECREASE IN TOURIST TRAVEL

California Travelers About One Third Less.

BLAME GRAIN PRICE

Several Tickets Sold from Here Recently.

As the year draws toward a close and the winter tourist season to California and Florida should be on in full sway, passenger department men on the railroads rise to say that the crop of tourists is short, away short. One local man has made an estimate that the California crop is fifty per cent short but most passenger men say this is a little strong. However, the assistant general passenger agent of one of the largest railroad systems of the country, while in Decatur Sunday, said that California travel was reported falling off one-third.

BUSY HERE.

Ticket offices of the railroads in Decatur have been doing a rushing business in the last three days but this is really the first good spurt they have had. The Wabash baggage room last Friday had its busiest day in a year and people were standing in line for a time waiting to check out baggage.

Monday, the Illinois Central had six Florida and three California passengers booked out while inside of a half hour, the Wabash ticket office Monday morning put two to Monte Vista, Colo., one to California, one to Arizona and one to Mississippi.

What's the cause of it all?

MARKET AFFECTS SOME.

"Mostly the grain market" says G. A. Lavery, I. C. ticket agent at Decatur. "Much of our winter travel in recent years has been the farmer. This year, they can't sell corn at 30 cents and spend the winter in California or Florida. Many others who could afford these winter travels were people with large money investments in stocks that right now, are not paying the dividends they used to pay. And another factor to a certain extent is the fact that from some points, people can take trips by boat to wet territory, cheaper than they can travel to California."

Among people leaving Monday for winter resorts are the following:

F. Cruther, San Diego, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Kizer of Hammond to Ocean Springs, Miss.

Mrs. J. O. Turley, Tuscon, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Bolen and Mr. and Mrs. Elias Buckles, Florida.

Campaign Results.

The eighteen divisions and terminals of the Illinois Central system made an improved showing in November over the month of October in the "no exception" or no loss and damage to express and freight campaign. Total exceptions taken in November were 3896 as compared with 4723 in October and 1933 last June when an intensive campaign was put on. The Springfield division reduced from 254 in October to 204 in November and the Indiana division from 149 to 101.

The I. C. also announces that the fuel saving campaign of October and November and the "no stock killed" campaign of November will be carried along through December as well as the "no accident" campaign. Results of the "no stock killed" campaign in November show only three large and no small animals killed in the month. In November, 1920, two large and fifty-seven small animals were killed. The fuel campaign of November did not have quite as good results as in October.

Railroad Notes.

C. W. Thomas, general chairman of the firemen on the Wabash system, was in Decatur Monday to confer with Del Adams, local chairman, on the deep cut made in the 9th and 13th district board last week. It is understood that a number of the men affected by the cut complained that the cut was too deep and took the matter up with the general chairman.

S. G. Miller, who has been second trick operator for the C. I. and W. at Decatur, has bid in the first trick, which had been held by E. B. Tackett and now the second trick is open for bids.

Just one little drop of encouragement for business came from the Wabash north end Monday morning when several north end elevators reported farmers to be hauling a little more grain now. Several of these stations ordered five and six cars.

Peter Martinic, local chairman for the maintenance of way employes is laid up with a slight injury sustained while working at the shops last week. He stepped on a small nail that ran through his shoe and up into the foot almost a half inch.

The Pennsylvania December pay days for Decatur are bulletined for Dec. 7 and 22 after the arrival of train No. 909.

Henry Brok , general roundhouse foreman for the Wabash, is confined to his home by sickness.

The tenth anual ball of the local lodge of the B. of R. T. will be held Monday night in the Moose hall.

The oil company made up of Wabash shop and roundhouse men and owning property near Bowling Green, Ky., will have a meeting in the K. of C. hall Tuesday night. It is said the purpose is to discuss the raising of funds for sinking three more wells.

Harry Chilton, clerk at the Wabash freight house, returned to work Monday after being off several weeks on a honeymoon trip to California.

John A. Graney of Champaign, for fifty years a locomotive engineer on the Illinois Central railroad, has retired and been placed on the pension list of the company.

VALUABLE BAG ON STATION PLATFORM FOR MANY HOURS

Are we honest here in Decatur? Well—just read:

A handsome, costly and new handbag was set down on the Wabash station platform Saturday morning and there it "set and set and sit and sat." Trains came in and trains went out and with them came and left, many, many passengers. More faithful than the "Old Home Town" gang did that handbag meet all trains.

The evening came and with it came the snow. People deserted the depot platform but not the handbag as it proceeded to gather a cover of snow, an inch or two thick. About this time, Tom Clements, employed in the Wabash baggage room in the daytime, happened along. He remembered that same grip in that same spot during the morning and he picked it up and left it in the depot.

And then the telegraph wires between a Wabash train speeding east and Decatur grew warm. C. W. Lucas, a Mueller man had boarded that train for New York City. His handbag containing a diamond and valuable papers, worth perhaps $600 or more had been left behind. Could they find it? Sure they could and in just a short time the handbag was riding an express car toward N. Y. City.

WANTS ACTION ON ELDORADO PAVING

O. W. Kincaid Sees Long Delay in Improvement.

"Do you suppose that the council will fool around with that street car franchise business all winter so that the paving program for next year will be so set back that it will be the very last of 1922 or possibly in 1923 before we can have this street and the other streets which need attention so badly, repaved or re-surfaced?" asked O. W. Kincaid, owner of much property in the business district between North Broadway and the Illinois Central railroad.

WANTS ACTION.

"Look at that street now." The holes in the streets, and there were plenty of them, were filled with water and both East Eldorado and North Morgan street were very bad. "Look at that street and yet we cannot get it fixed because of the delay to the street car franchise. Why don't they get that settled? Don't they know that it must be worked to an agreement and then be subject to the thirty or more days delay which a public vote on it, compulsory under the commission form of government, must entail?"

MORE DELAYS.

Then after that is settled there come the legal details involving ninety days at least, with the usual hearings and the like, to get the paving ordinances passed. Where will we be then. Away up into next spring, probably. Then we will have this street torn up all during the summer, just when it should be used.

"The council should get busy on this now, right now. The street railway franchise might just as well be completed now as two or three months later. We want this street made usable. It is now a disgrace to Decatur—and it is the first street the visitor who comes in on the train sees, too."

DRIVE PILES FOR RIP RAP BLOCKS

About Complete on Sand Creek Fill.

Two pile drivers are already at work driving the piling for the footing timbers which will be used to hold the riprap blocks in place on the sides of the various embankments where these embankments or approaches are to be protected from wave action on the lake. The piling has been so nearly completed on the Sand Creek fill that it will be finished by the middle of this week.

A third steam pile driver will be put at work this week in order to hasten the job. The Decatur Bridge Co. has the contract for the piling and the laying of the timber from pile to pile which will constitute the toe "wall" against which the slanting sheet of riprap blocks of concrete will rest.

Charles Muirheid, to whom the contract for laying the blocks was awarded, will start to lay the blocks as quickly as the pile drivers are out of his way. He is all ready to start.

A small roof fire was the cause of the fire department making a run to the residence at 623 West Packard street at 12:15 Sunday noon. Damage was only slight.

The department answered a false box alarm to King and Monroe streets at 9:45 Sunday night.

SLEEPING SICKNESS TAKES T. W. ABRAMS

In Grain Business in Several Towns.

ILL FOR TWO YEARS

Moved to Decatur from Tuscola 4 Years Ago.

Thomas W. Abrams died at 9:55 o'clock Monday morning at the family residence, 546 West William street. He was fifty-two years old. His death was caused by incaephalitis, or sleeping sickness. Mr. Abrams suffered the first attack of the disease about two years ago. He recovered sufficiently to be up and around, but never regained his strength and had been confined to his bed several weeks before his death.

IN GRAIN BUSINESS.

Thomas W. Abrams was well known in grain circles, in which business he was engaged for many years. He was born in Douglas county, near Tuscola, April 20, 1869. He and Miss Lucy Ann Collins of Garrett were married in October, 1896. In his early life he taught school at Garrett and at Tuscola. Later he engaged in the grain business at Ficklin, Tuscola and Bethany. He was at Bethany for one year.

The family moved to Decatur four years ago. His home had been in Tuscola for a number of years and he has many friends there. He was a member of the First Methodist church in Decatur. Just before he became ill he took his second degree in Masonry in the Bethany lodge, but was never able to finish his degrees.

HIS FAMILY.

Mr. Abrams is survived by his wife and the following children: Cecil F. Abrams, Welby Abrams, Eugene Abrams and Miss Mary Martha Abrams, all of Decatur. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Robert Armstrong of Champaign, and two brothers, Clem Abrams of Buffalo, N. Y., and Bruce Abrams of Ottumwa, Iowa.

The funeral probably will be held Wednesday forenoon at the First Methodist church. The interment will be in Fairlawn cemetery.

CHRISTMAS TREES SLIGHTLY CHEAPER

First Car Load Now on Way to Decatur.

Decatur's Christmas trees, one carload at least, are on the way. One commission firm has a car "rolling" toward Decatur from the far northern part of the Michigan peninsula.

"The trees will be lower in price this year because they will be somewhat smaller, on the average, than they were last," said a member of the commission firm.

"Last year too many of the large trees were placed in the cars which were shipped to Decatur and the freight, because of the comparatively small number of trees in the car, made the costs too high. This year we insisted on more "five tree" bundles and fewer two and one tree bundles."

TO INVESTIGATE DANCE HALL CLOSE

Vernon Kramer Complains to Police.

Vernon Kramer appealed to the city council Monday for an investigation of the grounds on which Mrs. Myrtle Edwards, assistant police matron in general charge of dance hall inspection, had issued an order to him to close up his dance hall in the Columbia block Saturday night just a short time before the usual dancing was to start.

Mr. Kramer claimed that he had had no serious trouble in his hall except in one case where he had himself sworn out warrants for the arrest of disturbers at his hall. He also stated that he had had no warning from the matron.

TO INVESTIGATE.

On the suggestion of Commissioner J. W. Montgomery who was acting mayor in the absence of C. M. Borchers Monday, the order was referred to Commissioner J. F. Mattes and the chief of police for investigation.

In the meantime the hall is to remain closed. Mr. Kramer said that his music contract and other expenses are running on and he asked as prompt action as possible. He was told that a report would be made Thursday.

NEWS FROM THE SICK.

Rev. Jessie Monser, 747 West North street, was obliged to return to Decatur Friday from Allenville, where she was conducting revival services in the Christian church, on account of bronchitis.

Frank W. Riedel, who has been ill with pneumonia at St. Mary's hospital, is improving and will be able to return home the latter part of the week.

Started as Doctor; Now Construction Engineer

"I started out to be a doctor, a regular old fashioned 'Yarb' doctor, the country doctor of the early days in Pennsylvania," said John W. Stroup, president of the Decatur Construction Co., 760 Gushard building, when asked what he started out to do when he was a young man.

"I studied one whole summer at what I planned to make my life work. We gathered our own medicinal herbs. We made blackberry tonic out of blackberry roots and fruits; we dug ginseng and we gathered slippery elm. But after a summer at that work I decided to become a shoemaker. However, just a half day as an apprentice at that job cured me of the sole saving ambition.

GOES AFTER GOLD.

"Then the Civil war came on and I joined the army which was my business until the end of the war. Then becoming anxious to get rich easily I walked behind ox teams from St. Joe, Mo., to the gold mines in Montana. But my gold dreams failed to come true and I went back to Virginia where I took a job as bridge builder under an uncle who offered me the remarkable wage of three dollars a day, the wage to be continued for three years if I would stay with him. However the bridge job was suspended and he failed to stay with me."

Mr. Stroup afterward worked in the mills in Minneapolis and learned the business which he is now following—the construction of grain elevators.

POUR LAST BLOCK SPILLWAY TUESDAY

Work on Dam for Winter Near Close.

STAGE OF RIVER.

8 A. M.	Saturday.	Monday.
Staley dam	600.6	600.4
Impounding dam	597.73	597.44

With the removal of the steel form or shoe in which the great blocks of the spillway of the dam are formed from the block which was poured Saturday the pouring of the last of the blocks will be started probably Tuesday. It was expected Monday that the form would be loosened and moved within the day and the pouring of the final block probably will take place Tuesday or Wednesday.

TEMPERATURE FAVORABLE.

The temperature is still very favorable for the work and even should it drop somewhat lower the arrangements for heating the gravel and sand are such that the work would not now be interrupted.

The entire absence of severe weather so far this winter has been very fortunate for the city as it is now believed that the final block will be poured without interference because of extreme cold.

MAYOR AWAY.

"I do not know how Charley Borchers will take it if we should happen to pour that last block while he is away," remarked Roy Cope Monday. "But we are not expecting to lose any time at this time of the year.

"The mayor may find the dam completed, as far as it can be completed this winter, when he returns from his trip to Washington."

The funeral of Helen Frost, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Frost was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning at the Moran & Sons chapel. The interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

START WALKOUT AT ROTARY CLUB

Dr. R. L. Morris Stunned Tells of Hunting.

Dr. Robert L. Morris was just a trifle "flabbergasted" Monday noon when, after being introduced by J. S. McClelland, president of the Rotary club, to speak at the regular luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. annex, he rather truculently started his talk with the statement that "any of you fellows who do not expect to believe what I tell about this trip might just as well go now." About half of the 118 men present, following the lead of M. L. Harry started for the door.

TELLS OF HUNTING.

Then, while the roar of laughter subsided they returned to their chairs and the doctor proceeded to tell of the two weeks hunting trip to the grounds of the Beaver Lake club, near Alpena, Mich., about 300 miles north of Detroit, which he took in company with and as the guest of John L. Bennett, a member of the club.

The meat served at the luncheon of the club Monday was from a four year old buck which Mr. Bennett killed on this trip.

PLENTY OF GAME.

Dr. Morris told of the excellent fishing and even better hunting on the 6,000 acres of this club and on the 10,000 acres of a club which immediately adjoins the Beaver Lake grounds. He told of the partridges, the bear, the deer and also of the herd of twenty-six elk on the club grounds and of the methods employed to drive the deer into the open.

Harvey Greider, who has only recently returned from a motor trip to California, spoke briefly on his experiences along the 2,300 mile motor trip from Decatur to the coast.

MISS GREEN SINGS.

Preceding the talks Miss Fredaricka Green, accompanied by Miss Sylvia Fisk, of the Millikin conservatory of music, sang two songs, one a spring song and the other a negro folk song.

A. M. Kenney told of the plans for an "all club" luncheon and meeting to be held some day next week to hear Frank Sheets, state superintendent of roads discuss the East William street route 10 east of Decatur future.

Paul Gray, president of the Aberdeen, Miss., Rotary club was present and spoke briefly.

PAUL LEWIS TO CAPTAIN D. H. S.

Halfback Elected By Mates Monday Afternoon.

Paul Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy P. Lewis, 615 West Macon street, was named captain of the 1922 Decatur high school football eleven at an election held Monday afternoon in athletic Director Muir's office.

The new D. H. S. leader is a graduate of the Mary W. French school and played his first football on the red and white team the past season. His work in the backfield was high class and coach Muir is authority for the statement that he balled up but one signal during the entire season.

MANY LETTER MEN BACK.

With nine letter men and one more athlete who missed a letter by a few minutes of play Lewis should lead a strong eleven next season. It will be his last season of play as he is a junior this year.

Howard Adkins, Helpenstein and Molenda all received votes for the captaincy.

Thought Them Unimportant.

Harper's Magazine.—While a business man was conferring with a banker in the latter's office, a clerk brought in a number of checks which the banker, continuing the discussion with his visitor, began hastily to sign. After watching him a few moments, the business man observed:

"You've got pretty good nerve—signing those checks without looking at the amounts of vouchers."

"Good heavens!" replied the banker, horrified. "Were those checks? I thought they were affidavits."

STATE ROAD MEN COME NEXT WEEK

To Consider East William Street Widening.

SPEAK AT LUNCHEON

Meridian Highway Also May Be Discussed.

A road meeting and luncheon with Frank T. Sheets, state superintendent of highways and Col. Miller, director of public works as the guests of the Association of Commerce will be held in Decatur either Thursday or Friday of next week. The main object is to inspect the East William street road in connection with the petition that the paving be widened.

Plans for a road meeing in Decatur are now being rather rapidly worked out and they will be completed within the next two or three days. The delay in the arrangements has been due to the fact that Col. Miller was away from Springfield.

It is settled that the meeting will be on Thursday or Friday of next week, the 15th or 16th. Frank T. Sheet, state superintendent of highways, can be here on either day. Which of the days selected depends upon the pleasure of Col. Miller. It is possible that Governor Small will also be here.

TO HAVE LUNCHEON.

The meeting and the uncheon will be an Association of Commerce affair. The hard road committee and the Decatur Motor Club have not withdrawn from the plan but it was deemed expedient for the Association of Commerce to handle it alone and all of the clubs of the city will join in.

As the chief purpose in bringing the state highway officials to Decatur is to secure the widening of the East William street pavement the officials will be first of all shown over the road. Whether this is to be before or after the luncheon is one of the details that has yet to be settled. And while the state officials are here it may be a good time to talk over some other matters with them, such for instance, as the paving of the Meridian highway.

$5,000 DAMAGE TO CAZALET HOME

Early Morning Blaze in Assumption.

Assumption, Dec. 5.—Fire in the residence of Leon Cazalet at 2 o'clock Monday morning did damage amounting to about $5,000. It is thought that the fire started somewhere near the furnace. The occupants were aroused by the fire and the fire department was called. The entire inside of the house was charred but the outside was not damaged.

Mr. Cazalet is in Florida at present but his daughter, Mrs. Leslie Corzine and family, live in the residence.

The building was one of the finest homes in Assumption and because of the fact that it was so large the family may be able to live in some parts until the house can be remodeled. Besides the basement there were two stories and an attic. The damage was partly covered by insurance.

New Income Tax Law Helps Married Man

Given Exemption of $2,500 for Himself and $400 for Each Child—Other Changes.

Mr. Married Man with a family with a net income of more than $2000 a year, you will be interested in the fact that the new tax law has helped you some in the matter of income tax.

Under the new law you will be granted an exemption of $2500 as being head of the family. Last year, you remember it was only $2000. Also last year and the years before there was only $200 exemption on each dependent child. Now that has been raised to $400. So the law was revised to some advantage.

WHO SHALL FILE.

The rates of normal tax and surtax on incomes of individuals for the year 1921 are the same as under the old law. Beginning with the year 1922, surtax rates are reduced and are in the form of a graduated scale, while the normal tax rates continue without charge.

Under the new law, all unmarried persons having a net income of $1000 or more, and all married persons living with husband or wife having a net income of $2000 or more are required to file a return; there is also added the provision that all persons having a gross income of $5000 or more (regardless of the amount of net income) are required to file a return.

PERSONAL RELIEF.

The principal relief under this phase of the law is noted in the personal exemption paragraph. This provides for no change as to an unmarried person who is not the head of a family, but a married person living with husband or wife or an unmarried person who is the head of a family, as defined in the law, is allowed $2500 exemption, provided that, in the case of husband and wife, where the combined net income exceeds $5000, the total exemption shall be $2000. Persons having dependents under eighteen years of age or over eighteen if incapacitated for self-support, are allowed an additional exemption of $400 for each such person instead of $200 as under the old law.

Under the new law rental value of houses furnished ministers of the gospel is not to be included as income; also, the total expenses of a person traveling in pursuit of a trade or business is an allowable deduction from gross income.
